Consultant Suggests Model Condo Zone Could Be Beneficial

By Sue Aucella Deacon

It might be a good idea for Andover to allow one multi-family housing development to be built before fashioning a new multi-family development zoning bylaw, the Planning Board was told Tuesday night.

Philip Herr, consultant to the planning board, presented the board with several alternatives for amending the town's current apartment district zoning — a step which is necessary before more multi-family housing can be built in town.

If the town allows one development, such as the one proposed by former selectman Sidney P. White for an 18-acre parcel on Andover Street, it "might help clarify what ought to be in the (new) bylaw," Herr said.

Any agreements the town might make with the developer of White's land would "lock in" the town for that site only, and would not effect decisions on any other developments proposed in the future, he added.

White, who sat silently through Herr's presentation, suggested to the board that development of his site could "perhaps be used as a blueprint, to let the town iron out any flaws in our agreement, and to be guided and directed by it in the future."

Herr agreed that the town "clearly is going to be able to proceed only one site at a time — and you could learn from that first development."

The consultant said he does not believe any new bylaw could open up zoning to allow new multi-family housing in Andover without town meeting approval: "I'd be very surprised if that happened," he said. "I just don't think it's in the cards for this town."

"Each place will turn out to be individually tailored and negotiated at town meeting, regardless of the bylaw you develop," Herr said.

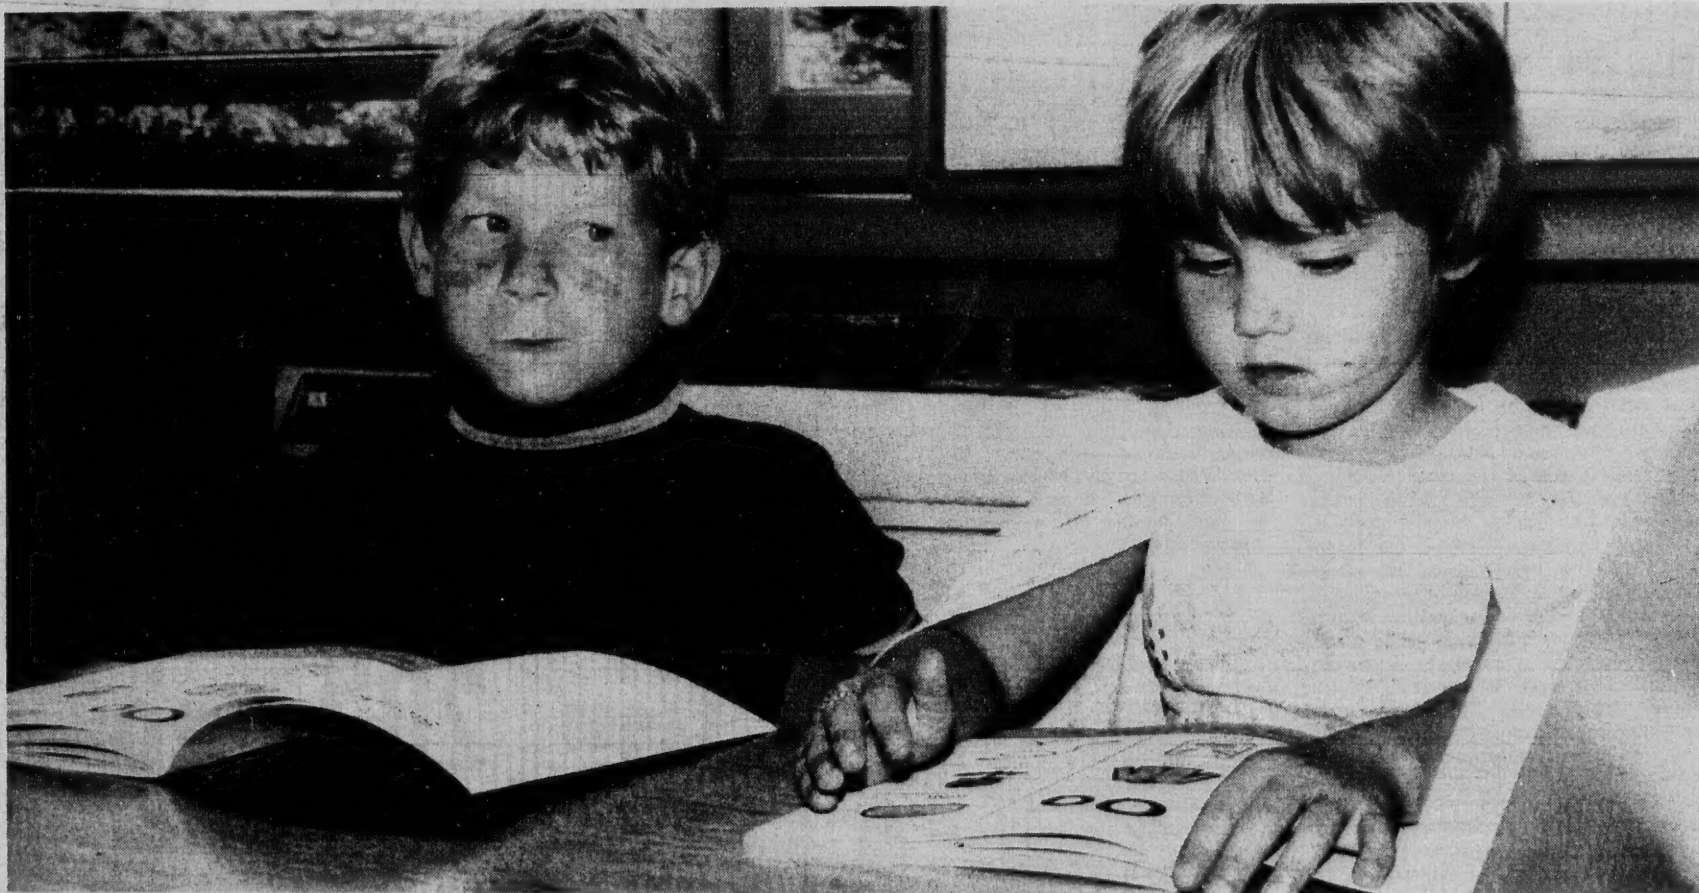

Herr called Andover's current zoning bylaw for multi-family housing unsophisticated, particularly in contrast to the town's progressive single-family zoning requirements. The multi-family district is now full.

Andover is "a community that has been very conservative about departing from existing patterns," Herr said. "It has been remarkably slow in changing zoning."

"I think most suburban communities are unreasonably afraid of multi-family housing," Herr said. "Residents are afraid that multi-family zoning means opening the floodgate to people who are different than we are. This is a concern that needs to be addressed."

Selectman Norma Gammon pointed out that Monday night, Ballardvale residents expressed their strong opposition to multi-

Slogan Winner

Vicki Rauseo, chairman of Andover Center Merchants, presents $100 savings bond to Kenneth Roebuck of North Andover, as the winner of the slogan contest conducted by the division of the Andover Chamber of Commerce. Roebuck's slogan, "Small Town Flair with merchants that care," was chosen from over 100 entries by the executive committee with the final decision being made by Hal Ingliss of the Goodhue and Gunther Advertising agency.

Buell Named To Commission

Senate President William M. Bulger announced the appointment of Senator Robert C. Buell (R-First Essex and Middlesex) to a Special Commission on Hospital Cost Control. The 20-member commission is composed of legislators, executive officials and representatives of hospitals, the health insurance industry, consumers and labor.

Of his appointment, Senator Buell said, "I am pleased to have been chosen to serve on this Commission, whose task it will be to develop a charge control program that responds to the concerns of both consumers and hospitals. With health care costs in Massachusetts increasing at rapid rates, the job will not be an easy one."

Senator Buell emphasized the importance to the citizens of the Commonwealth, as consumers of services and also as taxpayers, of controlling hospital costs. "The state's Medicaid budget, 45% of which is paid to hospitals, is growing annually by over a hundred million dollars," said Buell. "The cost of health insurance premiums is rising at a similar rate," he added, pointing out that such costs are borne not only by policyholders, but also by employers, who pay a high percentage of their workers' monthly premiums.

Citing the need for the commission, the Senator stated, "I am hopeful that we will develop and propose a hospital cost control system that recognizes the state's and consumers' inability - and unwillingness - to continue to absorb such dramatic cost increases."

Buell mentioned that there are various criticisms of existing charge control policies. "Some contend that the current retrospective system, under which hospitals are paid in accordance with costs incurred, provides little incentive to the facilities to reduce costs," he said, "And the Commission will therefore be considering a prospective reimbursement system." Another criticism that has been made of current policy, the Senator said, is that payments to hospitals are not fairly distributed among the five groups of payors: Medicaid, Medicare, Blue Cross, other insurers and self-paying individuals. The Commission will thus be looking into a uniform payor system where all five groups of payors would pay a more equalized rate for hospital services.

Concluding, Senator Buell said, "There are positive and negative features of the cost control systems we will be looking at, and it will be a difficult task for the Commission to devise a cost control program which will be acceptable to all the members. I am optimistic, however, that we will be able to reach agreement as to the best method for controlling rising hospital costs."

Bike-A-Thon Given OK

Genesis, a St. Augustine's Church youth group, will hold its third annual Bike-a-Thon starting at 2 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 28, with the selectmen's approval.

Rain date for the race will be Oct. 5.

The selectmen stipulated that all arrangements for the race, including selection of the race course, be made to the satisfaction of Police Chief James Johnson.

Pneumonia Immunization Clinic Set

The Andover Board of Health will sponsor a pneumococcal pneumonia immunization clinic again this fall as part of an overall program to reduce the incidence and prevalence of this debilitating disease.

Pneumococcal pneumonia is caused by a bacteria and is one of the many forms of bacterial pneumonia to which humans are susceptible. The following individuals are considered more vulnerable to pneumococcal infection and are prime candidates for vaccination:

Patients over 2 years of age with chronic diseases or disorders, such as chronic bronchopulmonary conditions, heart disease, diabetes mellitus, chronic metabolic disorders, and renal failure.

Patients with CNS injury where the dura is damaged.

Patients with splenectomies.

Patients convalescing from severe diseases.

Patients in old age homes and nursing care institutions.

Persons 50 years of age or older - especially the elderly (over 65).

The vaccine for pneumococcal pneumonia has been demonstrated to be about 75 - 80% effective in reducing pneumococcal pneumonia cases, and the duration of protective effect is thought to last at least three years, thus, revaccination is not necessary if you received the shot last year. The vaccine is contraindicated in patients hypersensitive to any components of the preparation and is not recommended during pregnancy or for children under 2 years of age.

Pneumococcal pneumonia vaccine will be administered at a clinic sponsored by the Andover Board of Health on Wednesday, Oct. 22, from 3:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. at the East Jr. High School. There will be a charge of $5 for pneumovaccine. The Health Division is requiring preregistration for the clinic no later than Friday, Oct. 3. Preregister by calling 475-7858 between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. daily. Transportation will be provided from The Haven for Andover senior citizens. Any questions regarding the clinical aspects of this vaccine, or your personal medical needs, should be directed to your personal physician.

Alcohol Drug Forum Tonight

A Public Forum on the Drug and Alcohol survey, the first event in the Living in the 80's Series sponsored by the Andover Task Force on Drugs and Alcohol, will be held this evening in the large group room at the high school at 7:30 p.m.

Parking For Development Approved

A long term three-way agreement which will benefit the town, the MBTA and a local developer - as well as commuters who take the train - was approved by the selectmen Monday night.

The board okayed developer Arthur Kalogianis' proposal to grade, pave and maintain property owned by the MBTA, located off Railroad Avenue and adjacent to the Amici building, at no cost to the T or Andover.

The property will be available for use as a commuter parking lot, which the town is in need of, said Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark. The developer, in return, will be granted rent-free use of part of the lot for outside storage of building materials, with the storage area to be surrounded by a security fence.

With the selectmen's approval, Kalogianis will proceed with his "imaginative proposal" to provide "highly suitable parking for commuters by this winter, while saving the town money," the manager said.

Selectman Jerry Silverman said the board commended the developer for the proposal.

Some Quotes On Recycling

By Virginia Cole

Quotes about recycling and waste disposal gleaned from publications you interested people have sent me over the summer.

Colorado has an aluminum can chewing mechanical "goat." The customer drops cans into the machine's collection bin, which leads to a conveyor belt. The magnetic separator removes unwanted steel cans, and an air blower diverts other waste materials such as glass and dirt. A crusher packs the cans for storage in an overhead bin; and a computer, which oversees the entire operation, directs a coin changer to make the proper payment." Do we want one?

"Reynolds Metals Corp. estimates that the 136,500 tons of aluminum it collected last year is more than the output of one of its typical primary smelters which cost some $200 million each to build."

"The Wharton School of Business concluded that as many as 226 trillion BTU's would be saved annually with bottle deposit legislation. This is enough energy to supply the total needs of any one of the following states: New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont, South Dakota, Hawaii or Alaska." In Andover we can't pay you for bottles, but you can recycle all of them and save energy.

From The Lowell Sun, "The resources required by the American way of life are enormous. In one year, the economy uses for each person a half ton of iron and steel, nine tons of building materials, 55 pounds of aluminum, 46 pounds of copper, lead and zinc, and 172 pounds of plastic. The energy needed to turn all those materials into cars, food processors and electric toothbrushes and keep them running amounts to nearly three tons of coal, 1308 gallons of petroleum and 89 cubic feet of natural gas for each person every year. Each American uses up the equivalent of about 7.5 gallons of oil a day, twice the rate in England and 55 times the rate in India."

A poster seen in the office of Wade St. Clair of the National Center for Resource Recovery - "Garbage is beautiful, environmental, functional, recreational, creative, decorative, industrial, educational, artistic, political and free."

The Corporation for a Cleaner Commonwealth as set up a hotline for information about recycling. Anyone may call 482-7977 in Boston for more information than we are giving you. They say "recycling begins with sorting things out. We've already started." Hope you have too.

To Give Poetry Readings

William Virgil Davis, winner of the Yale Younger Poets Award and professor of English and Writer in Residence at Baylor University in Waco, Texas will be a luncheon guest and will read his poetry in the Phillips Room at the Andover Inn on Tuesday, Sept. 30.

The 12:30 p.m. luncheon is open to the public with prior reservation.

Dr. Davis earned his Ph.D. degree from the University of Ohio. He also holds the Master of Divinity and Master of Arts degrees from Ohio University and Pittsburgh Theological Seminary.

Davis joined the English faculty at Baylor University in 1977 and was a recipient of a 1979 Fulbright. He has spent the last academic year lecturing at the University of Vienna in Austria. He has also taught at Ohio University and at the University of Illinois at Chicago.

The Yale Younger Poets Award is perhaps one of the most prestigious such awards presented to young poets under forty. Mr. Davis' winning book is entitled One Way to Reconstruct the Scene. In addition to his book, published by Yale University Press, his poems have appeared in numerous periodicals including the Atlantic Monthly, Poetry, The Nation, and a variety of others.

For reservations to the luncheon and reading contact Dr. Larry Larsen, 32 Chestnut St., Andover.

At Swarthmore

Sean Smith, son of Robert and Judith Smith of Hidden Road, Andover, is enrolled as a member of the entering class at Swarthmore College. Sean is a graduate of Andover High School in Andover.

Swarthmore is a small nondenominational liberal arts college with a fine engineering school. Founded in 1864 by members of the Religious Society of Friends, it has a tradition more than a century old of providing "an education equal to the best in the land." Swarthmore has been coeducational since its founding and was one of the first schools open to both sexes on the East coast.

Art In Park Is Saturday

"Jenkins Corner" By Bette Wasserboehr

Andover Artist Bette Wasserboehr is one of the local artists who will be exhibiting her work at the annual Art In The Park, which will be held Saturday at Central Park, Chestnut and Bartlet Streets.

Rain date is Sunday and if it rains Sunday, the show will be moved to West Jr. High School on Shawsheen Road.

Wasserboehr's paintings are on display at the Yankee Lady in Old Andover Village this week, as a preview to the show. Works by other artists are on exhibit in other downtown stores as well.

The annual fall event is sponsored by the Andover Artists Guild and the Department of Community Services.

Students from the Andover A Better Chance program (ABC), will be selling refreshments throughout the day.

Wasserboehr will be teaching workshops in watercolor and pastel, sponsored by the Artists Guild, beginning Oct. 1. This year she will have an afternoon class in addition to her usual morning one.

Longfellow Site

George Washington's headquarters during the Siege of Boston, later the home of poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, is open at 105 Brattle St., Cambridge, daily, 10 to 4:30. Guided tours: adults, 50 cents; under 16 and over 62, free.

Fall Greens Enjoyable

Our friends to the South have long enjoyed the distinctive flavor of greens - most notably collards, kale and mustard greens, and residents of Massachusetts are catching on, too! A very good time to enjoy these greens up North is during late September, according to the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture. These fall greens are primitive members of the Crucifer family of vegetables which also includes cabbage. Collards have smooth, rather thick leaves, while kale varieties vary in the curliness of their leaves, and also the color, which may be entirely green or tinged with purple.

Each variety should be purchased when the leaves are fresh, young, tender and free from blemishes. All are best when used the same day of purchase. For most recipes, tear or cut the crisp leaves from their thickened heavy stalks, which are generally too fibrous for good eating. Wash carefully and drain.

Like cabbage, collards, kale and mustard greens are good sources of Vitamin C, but in addition, they are also rich in Vitamin A.

These greens can be cooked in a number of ways. They are perhaps most often finely chopped and boiled in salted water until just tender, then served with butter or bacon fat and seasonings. They are also tasty when cooked, drained, dotted with butter, sprinkled liberally with freshly grated sharp Cheddar cheese and placed under the broiler until the cheese melts!

These flavorful greens are also frequently cooked with pork or ham, the flavors being notably compatible. Another idea is Portuguese kale soup, "Caldo Verde." No matter what your favorite technique, try cooking up some Massachusetts grown fall greens soon.

Sculpture Exhibit

"Expo 350," a citywide exhibition of contemporary sculpture - featuring large-scale works in welded steel, carved wood, cement and aluminum, by 16 Boston-area artists - is at Boston City Hall Plaza, the Prudential Center and Lewis Wharf, through Sept. 30.

Air Dry Dishes

Let your dishes air dry. If you don't have an automatic air-dry switch on your dishwasher, turn off the control knob after final rinse. Prop the door open a little and the dishes will dry faster.

'Think Tank' IDFA Bond Boosts Our Reputation

With their approval of $1.4 million in industrial revenue financing, the selectmen Monday night welcomed to Andover a company that will help make the town "stand out as a high technology center," said Dr. Lawrence Spiegel, chairman of the Industrial Development Finance Authority.

The selectmen's approval, granted at the recommendation of the IDFA, marks the first time that industrial revenue bonds have been approved for an industrial developer who will lease land to a tenant in Andover.

Physical Sciences Inc., a "think tank" now located in Woburn, will lease a five-acre lot on Frontage Road, near the southern border of the Raytheon plant, Spiegel said. The lot is part of a 22-acre parcel located between Frontage Road and Osgood Street.

Owners of the lot are Robert Webster and James Herscott, known as Frontage Road Associates, who will use the revenue financing to lease the land and a new 24,000-square foot research center to Physical Sciences, Spiegel told the selectmen.

The research center will consist mostly of offices and will be built by Channel Building Co. of Andover, he said.

Spiegel said ground will be broken on the site before winter, so that Physical Sciences may move into the new building next fall. The company will hold a ten-year lease on the site.

Dr. Robert Weiss, president of Physical Sciences, said the company develops "advanced energy techniques and technology," serving the federal government as well as private industry.

The company currently employs 48 people, and expects to expand once located in Andover, Weiss told the selectmen.

"We looked for a year before we found this site," he said, "and we are looking forward to being here in the country." He added that he expected "a fair number" of current employees to move to Andover.

The IDFA recommended approval of the financing in part because the new building could only be used as offices by future tenants, "and we have a need for small offices in Andover anyway," Spiegel said.

"We are very pleased to have this company in Andover," he added. "It is the type of company that makes very little demand for town services, so that the effect on the town is minor."

Employees of the company, including a number of Ph.D.'s are "very high calibre people," Spiegel said, "representing advanced technology skills. And eventually the company will be hiring from the local labor market. This makes a lot of sense for Andover."

Special Needs Van Asked

Purchase of a school van to transport special needs youngsters was requested by parent Sandra Chateaufneuf last week.

Chateaufneuf reported to the school committee on problems involving the transportation of her son Eddie, who is now in an electric wheelchair, and asked the committee to tap emergency funds to buy a special van.

She said the system has saved many dollars in the special needs area by developing many of its programs. Andover doesn't have to send most youngsters out of town for appropriate classes.

She said she felt that after the initial $14,000 investment, they could cut their expenses "by up to one-third."

She said mileage would be lower and the cost per child less in a school van using "one of our own drivers."

Andover's Enrollment Continues Drop

By Linda S. Corbett

Andover's school population continued to drop this year as anticipated with one unexpected phenomenon:

For the first time in five years, Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert reports that more pupils transferred into Andover schools than out to other systems, for a net gain of 20.

The decrease however, subtracting the number of incoming kindergartners from graduating seniors and taking the transfers into account, was 163. The decrease last year was 265.

The total enrollment is 2622 in elementary grades and 2987 in secondary.

Also for the first time in several years, Seifert noted that the first school committee meeting of the fall school year wasn't full of parents objecting to what they considered crowded classrooms.

He said the committee's teacher/pupil policy had generally worked well throughout the system.

He also reported a net decrease of four teachers.

While the closing of Doherty eliminated 18 teaching positions there, staffers were added elsewhere as necessary, for a net decrease of four.

The staffing is as follows, by school:

Bancroft: Kindergarten, 53 pupils, 1.5 teachers, ratio 17.71; Readiness Class, 16 pupils to one teacher; Grade 1, 72 pupils to three teachers, 24.1; Grade 2, 67 pupils to three teachers, 22.3:1; Grade 3, 80 pupils to three teachers, 26.7:1; Grade 4, 84 pupils to four teachers, 21:1; Grade 5, 97 pupils to four teachers, 24.2:1; Grade 6, 95 pupils to four teachers, 23.7:1.

Sanborn: Kindergarten, 38 pupils to one teacher; Grade 1, 50 pupils to two teachers, 25:1; Grade 2, 52 pupils to two teachers, 26:1; Grade 3, 69 pupils to three teachers, 23:1; Grade 4, 79 pupils to three teachers, 26.3:1; Grade 5, 83 pupils to three teachers, 27.7:1; Grade 6, 101 pupils to four teachers, 25.3:1.

Shawsheen: Kindergarten, 32 pupils to one teacher; Grade 1, 32 pupils to two teachers, 16:1; grade 2, 22 pupils to one teacher; Combination 2&3, 22 pupils to one teacher; Grade 3, 28 pupils to one teacher; Grade 4, 26 pupils to one teacher; Combination 4&5, 21 pupils to one teacher; Grade 5, 44 pupils to two teachers, 22:1; Combination 5&6, 22 pupils to one teacher; Grade 6, 48 pupils to two teachers, 24:1.

South: Kindergarten, 52 pupils to 1.5 teachers, 17.3:1; Grade 1, 45 pupils to two teachers, 22.5:1; Grade 2, 57 pupils to three teachers, 19:1; Grade 3, 50 pupils to two teachers, 25:1; Grade 4, 65 pupils to three teachers, 21.7:1; Grade 5, 63 pupils to 2.5 teachers, 25.3:1; Grade 6, 67 pupils to three teachers, 22.3:1. (Seifert said a half time teacher for math was added to Grade 5 to compensate for the higher enrollment there. They had projected 55.)

(An increase in South was anticipated, with Chairman Elaine Viehmann adding that that "goes with what we know about

Energy Conservation In A Breeze

Harnessing The Wind

By Sue Aucella Deacon

With the price of heating oil rising steadily, New England homeowners may be forced to find new ways to stay warm — and at least one Andover couple is convinced that the answer is howling right outside their windows.

Kay and Edward Johanson of 54 Rocky Hill Road last week were awarded an $18,842 grant from the U. S. Department of Energy, to fund a project that they hope will show wind power can be used to help heat a home.

"It's a very valuable resource, to have a very good wind like we have here in New England," says Edward Johanson, a soft-spoken physicist who is the vice president of JBF Scientific Corp., Wilmington. "We're going to try to show that we can harness it — and that wind power is suitable for a residential area."

The Johansons' project depends on erecting a "very small wind turbine," with three blades measuring 20 feet across, on an 80-foot tower in their wooded backyard. The tower must be tall enough for the blades to clear the 60-foot trees in the yard, Johanson explains.

But the couple can do little until the town's Zoning Board of Appeals hears a petition on a zoning variance to allow the windmill tower, since it would exceed the town's height restrictions. The ZBA has scheduled a Nov. 6 hearing on the windmill, and are expected to render their decision on Dec. 4.

Johanson feels their home is located in an ideal spot to erect the wind machine, because they live at the end of a dead end street with only one next-door neighbor. They own the wooded land on the other side of their house and across the street, while behind them is town conservation land.

"The tower would be relatively inconspicuous amongst the trees," Johanson says. "There are no bad side effects from wind power. It is not polluting. But since it's new, that has to be shown. We have to show that it's a viable answer."

Johanson feels the town's height restrictions pose an unnecessary barrier to the development of wind power. He wishes more towns would follow the example set by Ipswich, which historically has exempted church steeples and windmills from height restrictions, he says.

Until the ZBA variance is granted, the Johansons are occupied with paperwork and legwork to plan their wind system. Kay Johanson has taken a leave of absence from her job as a production planner with Kendall Co. of Boston, a division of Colgate-Palmolive, to get the project underway. "Now I'm planning this production," she says, laughing.

The Johansons plan to use their grant to purchase a wind machine from EnerTech Corp. in Norwich, Vt., which Johanson says is the largest manufacturer of small wind machines in the country. Other costs of the project will not be covered by the grant.

The next step will be to install an electric water heater in the basement. When the wind blows, electricity will be brought into the house, through the wind machine, and switch on the heater, Johanson explains.

A totally original aspect of the wind system will be a device Johanson plans to design and make, called a "preference selector." This device will allow the family to channel the wind power where they want it, he says.

Haunted House Meeting Planned

A ghostly meeting will be held tonight in Stowe School to prepare for this year's Haunted House to be held on Thursday, Oct. 30. Individuals willing to volunteer their time should meet on the second floor of the Stowe School at 7:30 p.m. Anyone not able to attend tonight's meeting but is still interested in helping should contact the Department of Community Services.

Helpers are needed as scary guides and spooks. Scenery and props are also needed to decorate the house, as well as sound effects to chill the bones. All help is welcomed.

Last year's Haunted House attracted over 100 people, adults as well as children were spooked as they passed through the winding hallways. Witches, goblins and spiders were around every corner.

Wind Tower

heating units that will store the heat."

These heating units already exist, and are made in Europe, Johanson says. They are made of ceramic brick, stand 32 inches high, and weigh 300 pounds each.

They are charged when the wind blows, he explains, and are later used as space heaters in the house by blowing a fan on them to release the heat. The Johansons will place two or three of the units in their home.

"It is the same principle as solar heating bricks," Kay Johanson explains, "which store heat when the sun is shining and then release it later."

Remaining power generated by the wind machine may be used to operate lights and electrical appliances, or sold back to Massachusetts Electric Co., Johanson says.

"A lot of work has been done using wind to generate electricity to operate utilities," Johanson says. "But very little has been done on using wind machines to replace the use of number two heating oil."

But because oil prices are escalating faster than the price of electricity, the homeowner "can save a lot more money by using wind to replace oil, than to replace electricity," he explains. Their wind machine will not be large enough to eliminate the need for heating oil, but should reduce the amount needed substantially.

Johanson hopes to have his wind system operating by January. Although the grant, which was awarded through the Appropriate Technology Small Grant Program, is for one year, he intends to run and report on his system for two years, so that it will be in operation for one full winter.

Kay Johanson will document the changes in the family "lifestyle" that may be necessary to make the best use of the wind power, Johanson says. "For instance, she'll probably do the laundry when the wind is blowing, so that we're using our own electricity, rather than at just any time," he says. "she may be listening to weather reports on the wind expected the next day, to plan household activities."

"It should make one more aware of the natural forces in our lives," Kay said, "in the same way that one is more aware of whether the sun is shining and the wind is blowing when one hangs their clothes outside on the line — rather than putting them in an electric dryer."

A wind storage system would be very "very practical" for the average homeowner, according to the Johansons. "The system could be wired in by any licensed electrician," he explains. "It is not really a new technology — it has existed since the '30's, and now it has evolved and come back to life."

The cost of installing a wind system such as the one planned by the Johansons would be approximately $14,000, the couple says. "although the cost could eventually come down to $10,000 once the systems are in production. The market and the hardware are just now emerging."

In addition, homeowners can obtain federal discounts of 40 percent and Massachusetts tax credits of 35 percent, up to $1,000 — bringing the cost of a $10,000 system down to $5,000, or "the cost of an economy car," Kay Johanson reports.

At $14,000, a family would "just about break even in 15 years," Johanson says, while at $10,000, it could take from five to eight years for "a complete dollar payback."

If their wind system proves successful, the Johansons will not market it, but will try to "communicate to as wide an audience as we can on how to use the technology," Johanson reports. Under the grant, they plan to lecture and read technical papers across the nation.

Johanson points out that wind power is "a natural for New England, because there are good winds within 20 or 30 miles from the coast. The average annual wind here is 13 to 14 miles per hour."

It is equally fortunate, he says, that the winds blow "exactly in correlation with our need for electricity — they are strongest at 7 or 8 a.m., when demand for electricity is high, and peak at 6 or 7 p.m., when the use of electricity peaks."

The winds are strongest in winter and early spring, Johanson adds, "so there is a good seasonal relationship, too. The winds blow when we need electricity."

One of the primary reasons the Johansons were awarded their grant is that New Englanders burn four billion gallons of heating oil during a typical winter, Johanson says.

"When oil prices actually doubled in 1979, alternative energy sources like wind and solar began looking very good," he explains. "Options that did not look feasible a few years ago now appear to be economically viable."

Watershed Meeting

The Ipswich River Watershed Association will meet on Wednesday, Oct. 1, at 8 p.m. at the Essex Agricultural & Technical Institute in Danvers in Room 201 of Barry Hall on Route 62, one mile west of Route 1. Cider and donuts will be served. New members are invited. Social events and business meetings for the rest of the year will be planned. IRWA will finalize plans for the fall water supply conference for which it has received, with the Ipswich River Watershed District Advisory Board, a $500 grant from the Commonwealth's Water Resources Commission.

East Junior High Happenings

By Leigh Cypress, Diane Jurgen
Carol Casey, Liz Harrington

Here we are once again at East! We are all looking forward to another great year. The opening of school on Sept. 4 went very well. The new seventh graders seemed to adjust to East with few problems. We are all hoping that they will have just as much school pride as we do. So far, there have been classmeetings with Eugene Frulla, our new principal, and the four student council officers.

Frulla came from West Elementary to replace Dr. Richard McGrail as East's principal. His main goal is to make East the best school in the country. The first step towards that goal is to stop all vandalism and graffiti in and around the school.

Another thing Frulla would like to see is each student at East involved with the school in one way or another. This would mean participation in sports, art, music, or anything that would contribute to the school. He's looking for 100% involvement from everyone.

This year we have several new teachers at East. In the Math Department there are three; Miss Susan L'Italien, Miss Lynn Shapiro and Mrs. Susan McLellan who used to teach here. Mrs. Patricia Kasper and Mrs. Carol Dufresne are new art teachers. Rick Jaffe has been added to the science department staff. Miss Greta Cocco has joined the gym staff and Miss Maria Piemonte is a new tutor.

The student council met for the first time last Thursday. The officers are Jim Denoncourt, president; Greg Hopwood, vice president; Donna Russell, treasurer; and Lauren Mencis, secretary.

Plans for this year include opening a school store where school supplies, candy, East souvenirs and T-shirts will be sold.

SAC begins Oct. 1. The student council will be selling candy, donuts and cold drinks. The first dance is scheduled for Oct. 3. Improvements Committee chairman Dawn Aikman and her committee plans to work to stop the vandalism and graffiti within the school.

In all the gym classes the Presidential Fitness Test is being taken by the students. As of this writing a total of 17 new records have been set. In the seventh grade Dave Eckman and Mark Polacow made a record of 8.8, while Kris Loranger did it in 9.0.

In the long jump Kris Loranger jumped 7'5". Vinnie Fichera did 21 pull-ups which tied the 7th grade record.

In the 8th grade: Darlene Cuddy ran the shuttle in 8.8 seconds. Missy Witty had a 9.9 second time in the flexed arm hang. Tom Lutz ran the 600 in 1.28 minutes. In the standing long jump Diana Miller jumped 7'2" and Jim Burgess jumped 8'9". In the sit-ups Kara Oliver did 64 which just missed the 9th grade record and the school record which is 65. Mary Tropeano ran 9.9 seconds in the shuttle. Sharlene Galvin had 101 seconds in the flexed arm. Jim Denoncourt tied the 50-year dash by running it in 5.7 seconds. Jim also set a record of 8.0 seconds in the shuttle run. In the 600, Larry Cuddy had a 1.26 time. Congratulations to everyone

Activities Planned By Council

Council Officers

Enrollment Up At College

Merrimack College's total student enrollment has grown to 2,241 students this year, the highest number ever in Merrimack history according to registrar Fr. Paul Thabault.

The record breaking figure which excludes evening division students represents a 11% increase from the number of students who attended Merrimack in 1975.

Despite a national trend towards smaller enrollments in American colleges and universities, more students are not only entering the North Andover college but more are also applying for admission to it.

According to Dean of Admissions E. Joseph Lee, the admissions office has received an increase of 40% in applications to the college this year in comparison to five years ago.

The admissions head further remarked that Merrimack College intends to remain a small Liberal Arts college. "We're very pleased with the enrollment we have now and there are no plans to increase our student body appreciably."

The East Junior High Student Council is presently at work planning activities for the 1980-81 school year.

The Council's officers, which include President Jim Denoncourt, Vice President Greg Hopwood, Treasurer Donna Russell and Secretary Lauren Mencis, have met several times with their faculty advisor Gary Hendrickson, and the following programs are being developed: A school-wide campaign to eliminate vandalism not only in the school, but throughout Andover; A school store, operated by the Student Council, which will sell school supplies; sale of East T-shirts to promote school spirit; and, continued from last year, the sale of refreshments at S.A.C. and during all home football games. The council is also planning the first school dance of the year on Friday, Oct. 3 from 7:30 to 10 in the gym.

Grade 7 members are Deana Bardetti, Erik Asgierrson, Jill Cuddy, Jodi Boudreau, Dave Eckman, Margaret Easton, Mike Del Checcolo, Harvey Eckoff, Katie Murphy, ed Meagher, Laurie MacDonald, Katie Hughes, Laura Scileppi, Todd Orrell, Mary Robb and Barry Tucker.

Once again, the Council has selected from its ranks, 9 students to serve as members of the Improvement Committee. Besides the four officers they include Dawn Aikman, chairperson; Larry Cuddy, Dave Starensier, Betsy Murphy, and Glen Markey.

Recent Chinese government population estimates for the country range as high as 960 million.

Lobby To Get New Look

By Laurie Lewis

In the months to come, Andover High School's main lobby will be developing a new look.

Gerald Burger, a quiet, soft spoken artist from Cambridge, will begin designing and painting a massive mural in the lobby. Mr. Burger, originally from Holland, gained recognition from The Cambridge Arts Council in 1975, during its First Call to Arts for CETA. The artist has been a farmer, forester, craftsman, cook, art student, teacher of crafts in Paraguay, and hand-crafts teacher for delinquent youths in London. Since he graduated as an architecture student at Zwolle, Holland, Gerald has worked in architecture offices in Amsterdam, West Virginia, Philadelphia, and finally Boston.

To date Burger has completed seven murals in Cambridge, including one at an elementary school, and another for free at his food co-op. Most of his work has been abstract. "I don't like intellectual art," he says. "Art should be on the streets, not in the gallery. Mural painting is a little like performing, you have the benefit of feedback."

Along with art teachers Mrs. Karen Gowan and Ms. Kathleen Cook, Gerald and many students have met to discuss and plan this project.

At the first meeting Burger presented a slide show about the process of creating a mural. The second meeting dealt with a discussion of topics for the mural.

At this time it appears that the mural will deal with the metamorphosis, growth, and changes of the seasons: students are drawing and submitting sketches of their ideas for the painting. There will be a few more meetings to finalize the plans for the color scheme and subject.

The two panels of mural will be located in the main foyer, one on each side of the catwalk. Each will be four feet high and twenty four feet long.

The entire process, from beginning to end, will be photographed by senior, Carolyn Kelly. These pictures will be presented in a slide show, so the artists will own a series documenting this process.

Hopefully the mural will be completed by the end of October. Early in November, after school, a reception will be held where the unveiling of this creative expression will take place.

This process sounds as though it will be quite an undertaking for all involved. The students and faculty of Andover High School will be looking forward to the final outcome.

BILL SAWYER

on the Federal Budget

Isn't it time we stopped spending more, and started spending smarter?

We all know what stopping more spending is, but spending smarter? One thing Bill Sawyer doesn't mean is trimming the federal budget by slashing human service programs. What he does mean is taking a good look at existing programs to make the same dollars work harder. Bill Sawyer regrets Jim Shannon's defeatist attitude that you can't balance the budget without slashing programs.

Outdated, overlapping programs must give way to those that are better designed and administered more fairly. This can be done without diminishing any program or benefit. By combining, simplifying, and coordinating current programs, they will be made more responsive and more accessible to those who need help. These revitalized programs will be improved also by more local administration — by people who know what the problems are in their own communities.

Bill Sawyer is ready to work hard to beat the deadly combination of high taxes and record inflation. He sees no quick fixes or easy solutions. But controlled spending over the long term will get inflation in hand and a re-emphasis on innovation in our society will get the economy growing again at a satisfactory rate.

What's the "bottom line"? It's efficient delivery of essential human services at less cost to us, the taxpayers.

Vote for Bill Sawyer for Congress in the Fifth Congressional District.

Concert

A program of the music of Ravel, Liszt, and Schubert will be performed by Boston pianist Darryl Rosenberg on Sunday, Sept. 28 at 3 p.m., at the Museum of Our National Heritage, in Lexington. Admission is free.

The program will be: "Sonata in G major, Opus 78," by Schubert "Valse nobles et Sentimentales," by Ravel, and "Vallee d'Obermann," by Liszt.

Darryl Rosenberg is one of Boston's most respected and well-known teachers of piano. From 1976 to 1979, he served as teaching assistant to Leonard Shure at the New England Conservatory and also taught piano at the South Shore Conservatory.

A Pause

Patrick Russo takes a brief pause on the way up the ladder during recreational activity at the Learning, Loving, Living Pre-school program at West Parish Church.

Preschool In Fourth Year

Learning, Loving, Living Preschool successfully began its fourth year. Old friends and new joined in a variety of activities such as painting, block building, puppetry, dramatic play, arts and crafts, pet appreciation and outside play. Louise Breen, director of the school, along with teacher Jan Gulezian and assistant teacher Sharon Coon welcomed the three and four-year-olds. The morning children, ages two years and nine months to three years, were greeted by Mrs. Breen and teacher Lesley Whitley.

The LLL Preschool is a non-denominational nursery school sponsored by the West Parish Church of Andover. The school's philosophy is an extension of the Church's belief that the development of trust relationships in the preschool years deeply affects the ability of a child to trust in a loving God. Each child in the school is considered a unique creation of God. In an accepting, non-competitive, stimulating environment, the children are encouraged to affirm themselves and others. LLL welcomes children of a variety of religious and racial backgrounds.

Field trips are an important part of the LLL program. Carefully chosen excursions are planned throughout the year. Parents and siblings are always welcome and encouraged to come along. The first field trip of the year was an apple picking adventure to the Smolak's Apple Farm.

The 1980 Board of Directors are: Kirsten Clarke, chairman; Judy Pulzetti, vice-chairman; Eleanor Campbell, secretary; Toni Rollins, treasurer; Lynda Whiles, registrar; Faith Johnson, director of Christian Education; Arthur LaFond, Christian Education representative; Karen D'Onofrio, Publicity; John Lavoie, equipment committee; Palla Scheurs, David Hammer, honorary past president. Questions and comments may be addressed to anyone on the board. Learning, Loving, Living Preschool welcomes visitors at all times. Space is available for one more child in the afternoon session. Information may be obtained from Mrs. Robert Whiles, registrar.

ARE YOU A UNITARIAN UNIVERSALIST WITHOUT KNOWING IT?

Do you believe that religion should appeal to reason as well as emotion?

Do you believe that all great religious traditions have something to teach?

Do you believe that knowledge and insights are not limited to just one Bible or Scripture?

Do you believe that people are basically good? That Hell and Damnation are tactics invented by religions to instill obedience, certainly not by a loving Creator?

Do you believe that questions about life and its meaning are as important as the answers?

Do you believe that "being religious" means living ethical lives more than saying prayers or attending services?

UNITARIAN UNIVERSALISTS believe these things, and join together in fellowship to explore life's spiritual dimension from this perspective.

Awarded Degree At B.C.

Laurie E. Bateson

Laurie Ellen Bateson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bateson, Jr., 111 Argilla Rd., Andover, was awarded a Bachelor of Arts Degree cum laude at Boston College, when literary critic, Ms. Germaine Bree, author of numerous works on French Literature, addressed more than 2,000 members of the graduating class and their families.

A 1976 graduate of Andover High School, Laurie concentrated in elementary special education, with a specialization in bilingual and mathematics.

Her undergraduate activities included Spanish Club, intramural volleyball and basketball, acted and directed in the college educational skits, transfer assistance program, commencement activities and was the President and Secretary of the Council for Exceptional Children.

Laurie did her student teaching in Majorca, Spain, and before returning to college, toured Europe for a month.

She has accepted a teaching position in the Dallas, Texas school system.

Eating Out

Eating out is becoming more economical: the cost of eating at home has risen 51 percent over the last three years. According to a recent Agricultural Department survey, the cost of eating fast food is the same as eating at home, when adding the value of time required to shop, cook and clean up.

Enrollment Up

President John R. Dimitry of Northern Essex Community College, Haverhill, announced today that Fall semester figures show an historic peak enrollment of over 7,300 students.

"Day Division F.T.E. figures are especially satisfying," Dimitry said, explaining that F.T.E. (full-time equivalent) enrollment is the basis on which funds are allocated to community colleges. 3,108 students enrolled for the Fall semester and the number of courses for which they registered resulted in an F.T.E. of 2,748.4. Dimitry credited part of the Day Division growth to the enrollment of a large number of part-time students. "We have made a major effort," Dimitry said, "to encourage people, especially homemakers, to take advantage of the Day Division on a part-time basis, and they have responded."

Enrollment in the Division of Continuing Education and Community Services is approximately 4,250 this Fall. Late registration is still ongoing in this Division and final tabulations have not yet been completed.

1,800 Parcels Viewed In Revaluation

Revaluation of Andover properties continues to move along smoothly, with about 1,800 parcels having been reviewed to date by workers for the PRC Jacobs Co.

Eugene Tworek, project manager for the firm contracted to do the revaluation said that about one-third of the 1,800 properties viewed to date are on the list for callbacks due to people not being home, or further examination necessary.

One person is now assigned to verifying recent property sales in the town and will be assigned to that task through December, Tworek said. The special assignment is due to the considerable sale of properties in the town and no particular section having any specific concentration.

The revaluation teams are expected to shift in to the northeast quadrant of town through the end of this week. The properties to be viewed will be generally located in the area bounded by North Main, High Streets to the Lawrence line. At the beginning of next week, the area will extend to Canterbury, Lowell and North Main streets to the Lawrence line.

Two persons assigned to commercial property revaluation, have been reviewing properties on North Main Street and in Andover center.

family housing in the vacant Bradlee School.

"Here you have a whole segment of the town saying 'No way' to this," Gammon told Herr.

Herr replied that a better understanding of multi-family districting would quiet most such fears. "I'm sure I could go into Ballardvale with a proposal for multi-family housing on that site that those residents would like better than a single-family development," he said.

In addition to serving "an important segment of the population," multi-family housing proves to be "fiscally beneficial for most communities," Herr said.

People who live in multi-family developments usually have fewer school-aged children, and place fewer demands on the town's water supply and traffic patterns per dwelling unit than single-family homeowners, he explained.

He said that while multi-family housing dwellers may possess "different social characteristics" than single-family homeowners, there is little reason to believe they are more transient.

"The stability of single-family homeowners is a great myth today," Herr said. "There is a great turnover in homes, as people move all around the country."

Before Andover can design a new zoning bylaw for multi-family districting, it is important for the town to pinpoint "what it is you want," Herr told the planning board. "Let's get it right up front, and get it into the bylaw."

The consultant offered four basic approaches to the board, based on solutions used by other Massachusetts communities: creative spot zoning, town meeting plan approval, a multi-family overlay district, and density incentives.

Herr suggested that a "hybrid" of these approaches might be "most appropriate" for Andover, so that parts of each approach could be applied to developers' plans.

He pointed out that Andover's current bylaw is "not very different" from the one in Lexington, where the East Street condominiums were built. White has often referred to that development as the model of his proposal.

Lexington's bylaw differs from Andover's only in that it requires town meeting approval of a developer's specific plans, and that the actual development must conform to the approved plan, Herr said.

The consultant noted the town could not set up restrictions on White's proposal, which the former selectman plans to bring before a special town meeting this fall, in return for rezoning White's land.

"The town can't sell zoning," Herr explained. "And the developer can't say, 'I'll give you this if you rezone my land.'"

Rhys Kear, director of Community Development and Planning, said Town Counsel Alfred Daniels recently offered the same opinion after viewing White's proposed warrant article for the town meeting.

However, Herr said, if the town purchased or had an option to buy part of the site — the duck pond, for instance — it would have a legal right to set and enforce restrictions upon the developer, and then rezone the parcel in a separate action.

"That would be a perfectly appropriate vehicle for more control over the development," Herr indicated.

The consultant said that whatever tack the town chooses to take, the time is right for amending the multi-family zoning bylaw in Andover.

"I think the current interest of the town in this topic is a good opportunity to get people to clarify what they are seeking in this type of residential development," Herr said. "Capitalize on the moment."

Tapestry

The fiber-tapestries of Rochelle Newman will be on display in Gallery 410 at the University of Lowell, Sept. 29 - Oct. 17. A public reception for the artist is planned for Friday, Oct. 3, 12-3 p.m. Gallery 410, located in the south campus Student Union Building on Wilder Street, Lowell, is open on weekdays, 12-3 p.m.

Rochelle Newman, a faculty member of the department of Philosophy and Fine Arts, Northern Essex Community College, recently exhibited her work at the invitational show, "Boston Seven," at Interart Gallery in New York City. This exhibit will include tapestries and colored studies for the designs.

INTERNATIONAL ORIENTAL RUG MERCHANTS since 1934

Church To Honor Lehman - Beckers

The Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover, at 244 Lowell Street in West Andover, will honor their co-Ministers, the Rev. Gayle K. and Dr. Randolph W. Lehman - Becker, at a reception at the church on Sunday, Sept. 28, from 3 to 5 p.m. The Lehman - Beckers will be leaving the area Sept. 30, and the opportunity to say "Goodbye" is the reason for the reception. All persons in Andover and the Greater Lawrence area acquainted with the Lehman - Beckers are invited to join the reception as guests of the congregation.

Gayle Lehman - Becker joined the ministry of the church in 1978, coming here from parish positions in Essex and Belmont. She has been active in the local church in pastoral ministry and adult programming, and has been involved in the larger community in the annual Andover Clergy Association Fast for Hunger. She is now the candidate for the Ministry of the Hollis Unitarian Church in Hollis (Queens), New York. She is also returning to school to pursue further studies in the area of psychology.

Randy Lehman - Becker came to the Andover church at the beginning of 1975, coming from the First Unitarian Church of Providence, RI. In Andover, he was active as a member of the Commuter Rail Study Committee, and then as Andover's representative to the Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority, where he served as vice-chairman of the advisory board. He was also a candidate for selectman in the Spring of 1980. He was also a visiting lecturer in Sociology in the DCE programs of Northern Essex Community College, and was a lecturer at Andover Newton Theological School. Randy assumes the duties of Religious Education Consultant to the 11 member churches and fellowships of the Long Island Area Council of Unitarian Universalist Societies on Oct. 1. With offices in Huntington, he will serve as resource to groups from Queens east to Southold. The position is a newly created, specially funded pilot project on sharing professional educational leadership throughout a cluster of churches.

The Lehman - Beckers, and their daughter Lee, will make their new home in East Northport, N.Y.

The Andover UU Church has begun the process of seeking new professional leadership with the election on Sept. 7, of a "Search" Committee comprised of David Rickard, Chair; and Robert Genier, of North Reading; Spencer Johnson, Charlotte Martin, Carl Byers, Nancy Mulvey and Meg Galaburda of Andover. An Administrative Secretary and a part-time pastoral minister have been hired for the interim period.

Christian Science Lecturer

Edward G. Karst

Speaking on "Our God-given Courage," Christian Science lecturer Edward G. Karst of Woodland Hills, California, draws a resolve and Christian conviction." The latter, says Karst, transforms lives and opens the way to healing.

At the invitation of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Andover, Mr. Karst will be speaking here on Thursday, Oct. 9 at 8 p.m. in First Church of Christ, Scientist, 278 North Main St., Andover.

"Society today needs more individual effort, more devotion, obedience, consecration and courage," says Karst, though he points out that the contemporary challenges of "spiritual and moral disintegration" are not new. "Religious teaching throughout history has been clouded with these same challenges" of materialism and shifting moral values, he states.

Karst devotes a portion of the one-hour lecture to discussing Christ Jesus' example of "spiritually-based courage" to live and teach what he knew to be "in line with God's law." In its deepest Christian sense, the speaker explains, courage "includes sincerity, integrity, consideration for one's fellow man and a genuine desire to serve."

Long active in the public healing practice of his religion, Karst points out that Christian healing "is the result of prayer and coming to understand God so clearly that we see His all-power in our thoughts and lives." Heartening signs that "today more and more churches are awakening to the possibility of healing through prayer" are becoming apparent, Karst adds.

The lecture is open to the public without charge.

Bean Supper

The First Baptist Church of Tewksbury will have a Ham and Bean Supper on Saturday, Oct. 4, from 5-7 p.m. in the Parish Hall, Route 133, Tewksbury. The proceeds will go into the Church Fair in December.

Overweight?

HERE ARE FIVE GOOD REASONS TO CALL DIET CENTER . . .

1 Diet Center's Program is Nutritionally Sound!

This entire program is based on sound nutrition. You will lose weight without depriving yourself of the essential nutrients for good health. Diet Center's Program meets all guidelines set by the U.S.R.D.A. and the U.S. Dietary Goals for optimum nutrition.

2 Weight loss is Fast and Predictable!

During the reducing phase of the Diet Center Program women lose an average of 17 to 25 pounds in just 6 weeks. Men lose weight even faster. This rate of reduction can be sustained until you have lost 50, 75 or even 100 pounds and more!

3 Your Diet Center Counselor is With You!

Each Diet Center Counselor is professional. They have been educated and certified by Diet Center, Inc. But, perhaps more importantly, they have each overcome their own weight problem, the Diet Center way. They know what you're going through and how to help!

4 You Will Learn How To Keep It Off!

Through private, daily counseling and an optional series of Nutritional Behavior classes, you will learn how to select and prepare delicious and nutritious foods. You will change the way you feel about food and learn what it takes to stay slim and healthy!

5 Lifelong Maintenance Program, FREE!

Once you reach your ideal weight, you can continue to come to Diet Center for a weekly weight-in and counseling session. If pounds start to creep back on, you can eliminate them before they become a real problem. You will take control of your weight by controlling your eating habits!

In just 10 years, Diet Center has grown to over 900 locations all across the United States and Canada. This phenomenal growth is due to one basic fact, The Diet Center Program Works! Decide to lose weight, for good! Call your local Diet Center Counselor!

Teacher Training At Church

As this year's chairman of the special Christian Education Committee of the Merrimack Valley Baptist Association, the Rev. Dr. Reginald MacDonald, pastor of the Andover Baptist Church, has been responsible for organizing the association's annual teacher training workshop. The event is scheduled for this Friday evening from 7 to 10 p.m. and will be held in the vestry of Andover church.

The workshop is open to all interested Christian education teachers in the Merrimack Valley area. Registration will begin at 7 p.m. and at 7:30, the Rev. Dr. Robert Fillingner, professor of Christian Education at Gordon Cornwell College, will challenge the group with an address entitled "Why Teach Sunday School?" Workshops will begin at 8 p.m. with Dr. Fillingner leading those interested in adult education. The Rev. David Melvin, associate pastor at Andover's South Church, will focus on children's education, and the Rev. Scott Walsh, youth minister at Andover's Free Christian Church, on teaching youth. The workshops will conclude at approximately 9:15, followed by an open panel discussion.

Andover-North Andover YMCA volunteer Shirley McDowell of Osgood St. displays the certificate she was awarded during last week's recognition program for volunteers. McDowell earned her certificate by contributing 3,000 hours of service to the Y last year. The certificate was presented by Nancy Finigan, right, Aquatics Director.

Volunteers Honored

Audrey Bedell presents a service award pin to Andover-North Andover YMCA volunteer Frances Avella during last week's volunteer recognition program. Avella contributed more than 750 hours of clerical service to the Y last year.

Final Days To Register

Tuesday, Oct. 7, will be the final day for new voters to register to cast ballots in the Presidential election in November. Special session of the registrars of voters have been set to accommodate new registration with the board scheduled to be in session Tuesday, Sept. 30 from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. in the town hall.

The board will also be in session from 12 noon to 8 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 4 in town hall and on the final day, Tuesday, Oct. 7, from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Persons registering should bring some proof of address, such as a tax or utility bill.

Dr. Scarito In Program

The Greater Lawrence YMCA is offering an evening with Dr. Nina Scarito on Thursday, Oct. 23 at 7:30 p.m. The evening discussion will be menopause; a time of change. Menopause is a significant event that takes place in a woman's mature years. It is many times viewed with apprehension or concern. The purpose of this discussion is to banish worrisome "old wives' tales," to anticipate and answer questions, and to help meet the constructive challenge of the years ahead.

Andover Artist Exhibits

Andover Gallery of Fine Art is presenting an exhibit of paintings and prints by artist Corey Tevan. The show will consist of 35 pieces of work and will be on view beginning Sept. 26.

Tevan is a resident of Andover, currently working in media distribution for Memorial Hall Library, Andover, and at Brooks School, North Andover, as a teacher of studio skills. He attended the Museum of Fine Arts School, Boston, where he was the recipient of fifth year honors, awards and scholarships. He says of his work, "As if the inevitability of death were not enough, man tends to fashion realities that are often cruel and unbearable. Surrounded by this vast darkness, my art reaches for triumph over the many sorrows of this life. In a society that defines itself in economic terms, I have sought an identity by creating out of the fleeting wisps and glimmers of ephemeral bliss...an unyielding firmament. I hope that others may share my vision and find for themselves those moments of liberty, mystery and solace."

The exhibit will remain on view through Oct. 17. The gallery is located at 91 North Main Street (Rte. 28), Andover, Ma. Gallery hours are Tuesday-Saturday 9-5, Sunday and Monday — closed. The gallery is free and open to the public.

Aid Association Hosts Annual Membership Day

The Lawrence General Hospital Aid Association will hold its annual membership day on Thursday, Oct. 16, at 10 a.m., at the Addison Gallery on the campus of Phillips Academy in Andover.

Membership chairman, Mrs. Henry Hyder, Methuen, has extended an open invitation to residents of Lawrence, Methuen, Andover, North Andover and Salem, New Hampshire. She has emphasized that all who attend should feel free to bring a friend. This new approach for members of the Aid Association to meet and support the hospital will also give members a time to pause and appreciate some of the great artists of America.

Christopher C. Cook, director, will give an introduction to the Addison Gallery

Collection. This unique collection in the American field consists of paintings, sculpture, drawings, prints and photographs. Cook's walking tour of the gallery will be approximately one-half hour with time for questions. While members gather for coffee, tea and pastries, they will have an opportunity to view and purchase the newly published and released Cookbook of the Aid Association, to which many of the 600 members contributed recipes.

The 27-woman board of directors of the Aid Association has set a goal of 100 new members for 1980. General members may volunteer as little as four hours per year to as much as four hours per week, at their choice and timing. A member of the Lawrence General Hospital Aid Association can work as a volunteer in: the coffee shop; the hospitality shop; thrift shop; on patient floors; doing Nursery school tours, or wherever most needed. Many of the members have discovered the time spent volunteering is small compared to the rewards received. There is no generation gap in the program, as many mothers have discovered. A boy or girl 14 or older can become involved. In fact, several students who attended Health Careers Day, April 1980, have chosen to spend some time in the volunteer program to learn more about career choices in the health related fields.

The support of the general members of the Aid Association is two-fold — they supply a solid base of funds for specific projects and they provide needed manpower for the volunteer program.

Mrs. Peter G. Johnson

Johnson — Hinman

Nancy Meredith Hinman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Hinman, 8 Forbes Lane, Andover, became the bride of Peter Graham Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Johnson of Mystic, Conn. on Sept. 6.

The Rev. Nancy Klasson officiated at the 1 o'clock ceremony, held in the West Parish Church in Andover.

The bride wore a gown of silk chiffon with an empire waist of re-embroidered alencon lace, bishop sleeves and a cathedral train. Her bridal hat was trimmed with matching lace and a walking length veil.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her sister Sally Hinman attended as the maid of honor and the bridesmaids included Eileen Benson of No. Haven, Conn. and Linda Pullan of Waltham.

David Johnson served as best man and the ushers included Elton Wayland of Guilford, Conn. and Douglas Hinman of New York City.

After the reception at the Lanam Club in Andover, the couple left for a honeymoon in Nantucket.

The new Mrs. Johnson graduated from Babson College and is an accountant for Liberty Mutual Insurance Company. Her husband graduated from Cornell University and is employed by the Hewlett-Packard Company as an electrical engineer.

They are making their home in Needham.

Mrs. Mark T. Hanley

Hanley - Kent

Andrea Lee Kent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kent, 2 Alonesos Way, Andover, became the bride August 16 of Mark Thomas Hanley of Mount Vernon, Virginia.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hanley of Mount Vernon.

Dr. Otis Maxfield officiated at the 11 a.m. ceremony at West Parish Church in Andover. Mark Peterson provided the organ music, and Robert Connor of Philadelphia was guitar soloist.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was attended by her sister, Kimberley Kent, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Raminta Blazaitis of New York City, Pamela Connor and Diane Harkness of Philadelphia, Pa., and Patricia Gorwitz of Alexandria, Va.

David Loft of Houston, Texas, served as best man, and ushers included the bride's brother, Jonathan Kent; the groom's brothers, Matthew and John Hanley; and Kenneth Rau of Williamsburg, Va.

A reception followed the ceremony at the New Indian Ridge Country Club, and the couple took a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico, before making their home in Alexandria, Va.

The new Mrs. Hanley received her B.S. degree from the College of William and Mary in May. Her husband, who earlier received his B.S. from William and Mary, received his MBA degree there in May. He is in the trainee program for Arthur Anderson Corp. in Washington, D.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Tigue C. Stanley

Stanley - Salyers

Mr. and Mrs. Tigue Clark Stanley are at home in Merrimack, following their August 23 wedding in Andover.

The bride is the former Kelly Marie Salyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Michael Salyers, 7 North St., Andover. The groom is the son of Mrs. Virginia Stanley of Merrimack.

Andover Town Clerk Elden Salter officiated at the noon ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, in front of flower arrangements made by Olga Palenski and Barbara Botsch.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an off-the-shoulder gown of cotton batiste with decorative stitching in the shape of diamonds, trimmed in lace. She wore a derby hat with trailing veil, and carried a bouquet of white roses, daisies, baby's breath and Queen Anne's lace.

She was attended by Mary Ann Harrigan of Andover as maid of honor, wearing a gown of green flowered batiste, and Nancy, Carol and Lynn Kurzbach of Derry, N.H., as bridesmaids. They wore gowns of blue, green and melon batiste with matching bouquets and flowers in their hair.

Dennis Shaw of Stoneham served as best man.

A reception followed the ceremony also at the home of the bride's parents, and the couple took a wedding trip to the Lakes Region of New Hampshire.

The new Mrs. Stanley attended Andover High School, and is employed by Instrumentation Laboratories in Wilmington. Her husband attended Wakefield High School and Northeast Institute of Industrial Technology, and is also employed by Instrumentation Labs.

Excellent Foliage Predicted

Fall foliage in New England is expected to be excellent this year according to information compiled by the Auto Club of Merrimack Valley.

Although a vintage year may not be in the making, foliage colors should be close to perfect and better than they have been the past few years, the AAA reported.

There are some splashes of color showing, even in southern New England. However, those are swamp maples and sugar maples that turn early every fall or else they are old or diseased trees.

Despite the recent cool weather, foliage is not expected to be early unless there is a frost. Foliage colors are influenced more by hours of daylight than degrees of temperature.

So AAA expects peak color to be right on schedule. It's due in the mountains of New Hampshire and Vermont around the first week in October, according to the AAA. Best foliage in the Berkshire Hills of western Massachusetts comes the first two weeks in October.

In eastern Massachusetts peak color is generally mid October and later.

The complete Fall foliage cycle takes about three weeks. Peak color lasts about one week in a given area.

Winter Squash Is Available

You don't need to wait until winter to enjoy winter squash, says the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture. A number of local "winter" varieties are already piled high on the

Girl Scout Uniform Sale Scheduled

The Shawsheen Neighborhood of the Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council will hold a used uniform sale on Friday, Oct. 10, 3-5 p.m. at South Church, 41 Central St., Andover in the Discovery room on the lower level.

Mrs. Marion Stanwood, chairman of the sale, requests that uniforms marked with name, address, and price requested be turned into local Girl Scout leaders or Mrs. Joyce Robinson, 50 Wild Rose Drive, Andover, or Mrs. Nina Anthony, 7 Westwind Road, Andover. Of the money raised from the sale, seventy-five percent will be returned to the individual and 25 percent will be used to finance neighborhood events.

shelves at farmers markets, roadside stands and grocery stores, with normal supplies forecast for the fall season.

Varieties grown locally include the individually sized green acorn, the green flat-top buttercup, the bell-shaped buff-colored butternut, the golden oval-shaped spaghetti and the larger sized Blue Hubbard squash. Each offers a delicate flavor that can be enjoyed as a tasty vegetable dish or in pies, casseroles, breads and souffles.

Squash is part of the gourd family which also includes cucumber, muskmelons and pumpkins. Winter squash differs from summer varieties in that they are eaten when ripe; the seeds are mature and hard and the rind is tough. Because of their hard rinds, many can be stored for long periods of time, particularly the enormous Hubbard squash.

The history of squash can be traced back to 6000 B.C. in the primitive villages of Mexico and Peru. Later, European settlers were introduced to squash by the American Indians and it was probably enjoyed at the first Thanksgiving feast.

Nutritionally, squash is a sound investment. All varieties are high in Vitamin A, and winter squash is a good source of Vitamin C, contains fair amounts of riboflavin and is also low in sodium.

The range in size, color and shape of winter squashes is perhaps the greatest of any family of vegetables. A general rule of thumb for selection is to choose those which are heavy for their size and have hard, tough, unblemished rinds. No matter which you choose, you are sure to enjoy the low prices and excellent quality of Massachusetts grown winter squash this fall.

Andona Begins Season

The Andona Society opened its 1980-81 year of activities to benefit the youth of Andover at a dinner meeting held at the Lanam Club in Andover.

The Board of Directors include: Mrs.

Joan Orrick, president; Mrs. Barbara Egan, vice president; Mrs. Sue Daily, secretary; Mrs. Judy Malakoff, treasurer with Chairpersons of Mrs. Mary Durant, ways and means; Mrs. Mitzi Norton, meetings; Mrs. Sandra Pruneau, public relations and records; Mrs. Jan Brink, civic; Mrs. Pat Scarborough, membership; Mrs. Pat Hildebrandt, points; and Mrs. Nancy McBride, properties.

Andona has already begun planning the many projects and functions which enable the society to aid the youth of Andover, such as Clown Town, The Andona Ball and a Mid-Winter Card Party. Thanks to the support of the community, Andona is able to distribute scholarships to graduating seniors at the Andover High School and the Vocational High School, send deserving children to various summer camps, and many other needy youth projects and activities are funded in various ways, including a major project of the Andona members which is testing pre-school children in the amblyopia screening.

Membership Brunch Is Planned

Preparing Mailing

Adult Education

Memorial Hall Library receives considerable information from colleges, professional organizations and adult education centers on extension courses, management seminars, college courses, etc. Check with the Reference Librarian to find what is available to further your special interest or education.

Speed Reading Course Starts October 1

To help your reading speed and comprehension whether for business or pleasure, Memorial Hall Library is offering Sanbor & Simmons' Speed Reading Course again starting Wednesday, Oct. 1. The course will meet each Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. through Oct. 29. Frank Caruso will be the instructor and the fee will be $45. Registrations will be taken at the Circulation Desk through Oct. 1.

The Nature Of Woman

"The Nature of Woman" by Mary Anne Warren provides a guide to literature, especially in the areas of philosophy and social sciences, on the nature of woman. From the writings of Plato and Aristotle to the feminists of the 1970's, it presents original or influential theories on the moral, psychological and theological roles of women. Students and patrons interested in the woman's movement will find this new guidebook in the reference collection at Memorial Hall Library an excellent source of ideas and material.

Children's Room News By Bridget Bennett

The Children's Room is now registering children ages 3-5 for our fall story-hours. These stories for our "Littlest Listeners" will be presented each Tuesday and Wednesday morning at 10 from Oct. 7 and 8 through mid-December. To be eligible, children must have reached their third birthday by April 1980, and parents should register in person. For pre-schoolers who are unable to attend the morning story hours, we shall be presenting bedtime stories at "Pajama Party" which meets each Thursday evening at 7 p.m. starting October 2. No registration is required for this program.

For second and third graders we have planned a new reading club which will meet on alternate Saturday mornings starting Oct. 4. Called "The Time Travelers" the general objective will be to provide beginning readers with some exciting ways of exploring the resources of the Children's Room through the theme of traveling through time. Registration will be limited, so please call the Children's Room at 475-6960 for more information.

Our fall program flier with complete details on all programs is now available.

OBITUARIES

DR. ARI M. ARAM

A memorial service will be held for Dr. Ari M. Aram of Andover at 7 p.m. tonight at the First United Methodist Church, 645 Main St., Melrose.

Dr. Aram, 51, of Sheridan Road, died unexpectedly Sunday.

He was born in Shiraz, Iran, and was educated at the University of Tehran, University of Rochester and University of Alabama. He had practiced orthodontics in Melrose since 1961.

He was a member of the Melrose Rotary Club for many years and, at the time of his death, was serving on the board of directors of the Melrose YMCA.

He leaves his wife, the former Mary Haas and two daughters, Lili and Sherene. Also surviving him are his parents, two sisters, Dokhy Ferdowski and Minoo Moshiri, and a brother, Parviz, all of Tehran, Iran, and two sisters, Pari Frasseti and Nahid Aram of California.

A graveside burial service was held at 1130 a.m. yesterday at the West Wyoming Cemetery, Melrose.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Islamic Center of New England, Quincy, or the Melrose YMCA Building Fund.

MAJORIE WILSON

Marjorie (Fessenden) Wilson, 53, 240 Andover St., North Andover, died Sept. 10 at her home following a long illness.

Born in Miami, Fla., she was a former long-time resident of Andover and had attended the Andover public schools, graduating from Pynchard High School in 1944. Mrs. Wilson was active in the all-girls band while at Pynchard High School. She was a member of the Trinitarian Congregational Church.

She is survived by her husband, George P. Wilson; her mother, Mrs. Lucy M. (Cheever) Fessenden of Andover; daughters, Mrs. George (Brenda J.) Frarkas of Haverhill, and Mrs. Thomas (Cynthia L.) Ratcliffe and Dayna P. Wilson, both of North Andover; and grandsons, David Frarkas of Haverhill and Christopher Ratcliffe of North Andover.

Graveside services were held Sept. 12 in Spring Grove Cemetery, Andover.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover.

THOMAS KELLY

Thomas Kelly, 85, 26 High Plain Road, died Sunday at Lawrence General Hospital following a long illness.

Born in Pendleton, Lancashire, England, Sept. 26, 1894, he had been a resident of Andover for more than 30 years and was director of the Massachusetts Division of Industrial Safety in 1964 when he retired.

A graduate of Harvard College in 1927, he was a member of the Harvard Alumni Association and a former member of the Harvard Engineer Society. He was a member of St. Augustine's Church in Andover, Andover Lodge of Knights of Columbus, a 30-year member of the St. John's Guild in Danvers, Men's Guild of Central Catholic High School in Lawrence, The Samuel Osgood Stamp Club of Greater Lawrence, Health and Physics Society of Boston, American Industrial Hygiene Association, a former member of the Massachusetts Nuclear Incident Advisory Team, Joselin Diabetes Foundation and the Andover Haven.

He is survived by his wife, Helen Heinz Kelly; two sons, Thomas F. Kelly, Jr. of Methuen and Daniel G. Kelly of Andover; a sister, Mrs. Olive M. Cordingly of North Billerica; two grandsons, Thomas F. Kelly, IV, and Paul Kelly of Methuen and several nieces and nephews.

A funeral mass was offered Wednesday at 10 a.m. in St. Augustine's Church, Andover, with burial at Bellevue Cemetery in Lawrence.

Donations may be made to the Joslin Diabetes Foundation Inc., One Joslin Place, Boston.

ANNA M. GREEN

Anna M. (Grogan) Green, 90, 132 Main St., died Sept. 18 at Lawrence General Hospital following a short illness.

Born in Springfield, Ill., she had resided at Lake Hopatcong, N.J. the greater part of her life, and moved to Andover in 1970. Mrs. Green attended St. Augustine's Church.

The widow of Arthur N. Green, she is survived by a grandson, Dr. James W. Harwood of San Francisco, Calif.; a granddaughter, Mrs. Hal (Aline) Rubin of Andover; great-granddaughters, Misses Jennifer and Susanna Rubin, both of Andover, and Miss Helena Harwood of San Francisco.

A mass was celebrated Saturday at 9:30 a.m. in St. Augustine's Church. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Woodside, N.Y.

BENJAMIN YAFFA

Benjamin "Pinky" Yaffa, 64, 1 Pettingill Ave., Andover, a retired self-employed carpenter, died Monday at Lawrence General Hospital following a short illness.

Born in Boston, he was educated in the Malden school system and was a graduate of Malden High School. Mr. Yaffa was a self-employed carpenter until his retirement in 1974.

He is survived by his wife, Hilda (Brody) Yaffa; daughters, Rita E. Yaffa of Andover and Mrs. Frederick (Arlene) Sweeney of Vienna, Va.; brothers, Joseph L. Yaffa of Malden, and Nathan, Charles and Emanuel Yaffa, all of Los Angeles, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Edward (Rachael) Ross of Los Angeles; two grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Tuesday from the Irving Fisher Memorial Chapel in Lawrence. Burial was in Temple Emanuel Cemetery, Andover. Memorial week will be observed at his residence through Thursday evening.

Hard Hat Tour

A tour of the industrial areas of the Charlestown Navy Yard, one of the oldest shipyards in America, is held daily, on the hour from 10 to 4, free. Meet at the informational kiosk inside the Navy Yard, next to Old Ironsides.

Autumn Walk In No. Andover

On Sunday, Sept. 28 at 1:30 p.m., the Andover Committee of the Appalachian Mountain Club is sponsoring a "Looking for Autumn" walk. The walk will be along the shores of Lake Cochichewick and then up to the top of Weir Hill. If you wish to search for the early signs of Fall (which should tell you how hard the winter will be) and to view the surrounding countryside (as far away as Mt. Monadnock) and the city of Lawrence meet at the "Trustees of Reservation" sign on Steven St.

To get there from Rtes 114 and 125 at Merrimack College go north on Rte. 125 towards North Andover (Haverhill), past the High School (on the right), take the next right on to Osgood Road bearing left to Stevens St.

The leaders of this trip are Barbara Lybrand and Blanche Brattin

Farm Fair

If you've been dying to show off your prize vegetables from your garden, here's your chance! The First Wenham Agricultural Fair will be held at the Iron Rail property (corner of Grapevine Road and Rte. 22) in Wenham on Saturday, Oct. 11. Home gardeners and local farmers alike will have an opportunity to exhibit their best looking vegetables, and compete for trophies and ribbons to be awarded on the basis of: quality, appearance, uniformity, freedom from insect disease and mechanical injury, and trueness to form. Judge for the event will be Peter Gibney, owner of Gibney Gardens farmstand and greenhouse. There will be classes for everything from tomatoes to ornamental corn.

AEA Urges Defeat Of Prop. 2½

35 THE TOWNSMAN, SEPTEMBER 25, 1980

President Jim Readman of the Andover Education Association last week asked the Andover School Committee to take a public stand against Proposition 2½, which will appear on the November ballot.

Readman said the AEA would be among the forerunners fighting the proposal which, he said, would have "a disastrous effect on education in the Town of Andover."

Committeeman Joseph Finn said that "unfortunately, a lot of people will vote for it (Prop. 2½) because they feel it would cause the state legislature to get off dead center in regard to tax reform."

Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert said he isn't quite clear as to what it would mean to the town, but that it could take $1.5 million out of the school budget. In a budget that's 82 percent salaries, he said, it would affect a lot of people.

Susan Shaer of Seminole Circle, observer for the League of Women Voters, urged the committee to say something about it at every meeting. "The person on the street hasn't even heard about Proposition 2½," she said.

She added that she felt it would be "immensely valuable not to use scare tactics" in an effort to defeat the bill, but rather to use "reasonable examples."

Committeeman John Eaton said he had volunteered to be the school committee's representative to a town committee studying tax reform, but that he hadn't heard any more about it.

Tenspeed Winner

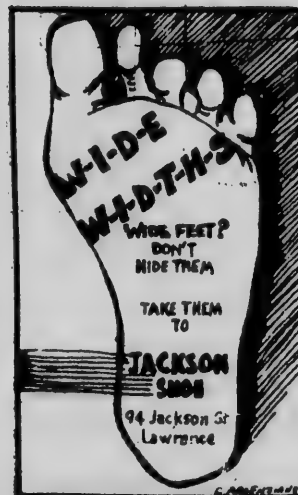

Stacey Hughes of Lockway Road, right, won the back-to-school award for a silver Raleigh tenspeed bicycle sponsored by the Shawsheen Merchants Association last week. Irving Winn, president of the association, presented the bicycle to Hughes at the Arlington Trust Co. The bicycle was donated by the Cycle Shack.

National Merit Semifinalists Named

Simeon M. Herskovits, son of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Herskovits, 109 Central St., has been named a Semifinalist in National Merit Scholarship competition.

Herskovits, who is a senior at Phillips Academy, brings the total of Andover residents so-honored this year to 14; seven at Andover High and seven at PA.

Herskovits attended East Jr. High for two years before entering PA as a freshman. His family moved here from Brookline in 1972.

He is editor-in-chief of the Broadside, a student poetry publication, a tutor, participant in the Orientation Program, and recipient of the Arthur Burr Darling Award for first prize in American History. He also lettered in gymnastics.

Herskovits' main interests for future study are English/philosophy and history. He is "still looking" at a variety of schools.

Other Seifinalists from PA include Michael J. Abele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Abele, 27 Smithshire Est.; Ernest F. Costello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Costello, Jr., 61 High St.; Thomas R. Kinsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kinsky, 62 Elm St.; Howard H. Lebowitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Lebowitz, 4 Bittersweet Lane; Matthew E. Lenoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lenoe, 15 Morton St.; and Timothy W. Plass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil W. Plass, 211 Lowell St.

From Andover High are: Christopher E. Barbagallo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barbagallo, 26 Farrwood Drive; Elizabeth A. Clough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart B. Clough, 11 Kathleen Drive; Rene F. Croteau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Croteau, 67 Woburn St.; Mark E. Easton, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Cabot Easton, 2

Tobey Lane; Laura W. Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson, 4 Applecrest Road; Jody Ann Landers, daughter of Mrs. Joanne B. Landers, 277 No. Main St.; and Susan M. Sohler, daughter of Mrs. Jerome F. Sohler, 2 Apollo Cir.

A total of 15,000 Semifinalists were chosen by the Evanston, Illinois-based Merit corporation, from more than one million secondary students who took the PSAT-NMSQT in 1979. About 14,000 Finalists will be chosen in February, to compete for some 4,500 Merit Scholarships.

Semifinalists are allocated on a state representational basis, so that the number in each state is in proportion to that state's percentage of the nation's high school graduating class.

Three types of awards will finally be given: about 1,000, one-time National Merit $1,000 Scholarships, again on a state-representational basis; about 3,500 four-year corporate sponsored scholarships for children of company employees, which vary between $1,000 and $8,000 total; and an additional 1,950 four-year awards underwritten by colleges and universities.

Semifinalists

Phone Books En Route

Delivery of over 85,000 new Lawrence telephone directories began this week.

The books -- features a fall scene in Townsend -- contain listings of telephone subscribers in Andover and Lawrence, and Salem, N.H.

A wealth of other information also can be found in the directory ranging from emergency services listings and guides to human services to tips on saving on phone bills, United States time zones and postal zip codes.

Local New England Telephone manager Margaret Carrington said delivery is expected to be completed Oct. 9.

New England Telephone

annually distributes over 10 million copies of 98 different directories which include more than 3 million listings on some 6 billion pages.

The first telephone directory appeared in 1878 as a sheet of paper listing 50 customers. No telephone numbers were used -- callers simply told the operator the name of the party to contact.

Today, area telephone numbers can be obtained fastest by looking in the fully indexed white pages of the directory which would reduce the number of unnecessary calls made

Good Advice From

The experts in the nursery business have knowledge to share...

Autumn is mulching and watering time for your plants. Start with a quality pine bark mulch, and add plenty of water, and you'll protect your plants from a deep freeze. A good mulch will preserve moisture in the soil so the plants won't deteriorate. Mulching and watering also strengthen the plant against those harmful, severe temperature changes and will help protect your soil from a hard freeze. Look for the nursery or garden center near you that displays the green and white symbol of the Massachusetts Nurserymen's Association. Their knowledge and experience are your assurance of quality.

Update

By Robert E. Finneran
Editor

Tower Debris Is From Airplane

The debris lodged in the radio tower on Wood Hill appears "definitely to be from the airplane," which crashed on Route 495 Aug. 12.

As reported in the TOWNSMAN in last week's issue, pieces of debris, apparently from a wing of the plane were spotted in the 397-foot tower and on the ground nearby and became subject of the investigation by the National Air Safety Transportation Board.

Andrew Alston, investigator for the board, said Wednesday morning that the piece in the tower had been photographed and appeared to be definitely a part of the plane in which two men perished in the fiery plunge onto Route 495 at Route 133.

Alston said that co-ordinators in Massachusetts were making arrangements to have the piece removed from the tower either today or tomorrow for closer inspection. The chunk of possibly a wing part is located about 80 feet from the top of the tower, it is estimated.

Investigation into the cause of the crash will continue for some time, Alston said, even after the debris is gathered. The remnants of the plane remain stored in a hangar at the Lawrence airport.

Wayne Richie, of New Haven, Conn., the pilot, and his passenger, Frank Cerne, of Wethersfield, Conn., were killed when the plane crashed and burst into flame at the Route 495-133 intersection about 9:30 a.m.

The plane was headed toward Tew-Mac airport in Tewksbury on an instrument approach.

Weather conditions were difficult, a heavy fog bank hanging over the area at the time of the crash.

While investigators knew there were parts of the plane missing, it had been assumed until last week that they may have burned in the crash.

A maintenance man for WLLH radio, which owns the tower on Wood Hill, spotted the debris in the tower and on the ground nearby.

The tower itself, the highest in a cluster of transmission towers on the hill behind Haggetts Pond, appears to have some indentation above where the debris is lodged.

Cable TV Decision Coming Soon

Andover will more than likely be having Cable television sometime soon; the question is what company will serve the community.

The special committee appointed by the selectmen to look into Cable TV for Andover will meet Monday, Oct. 6, to begin the decision making process on selecting between Continental Cablevision of Lawrence and Rollins Cablevision of Wilmington, Del., which have presented their proposals.

Atty. Reginald Marden, who heads the special study committee, said this week.

that hearings have been held and proposals reviewed. The committee will now be visiting areas where the proponents have operations and view the systems.

Marden said that he anticipated that the decision-making process would be initiated at the Oct. 6 meeting.

Selectmen have charged the committee with determining which firm should offer its service to Andover. The group will make its recommendation to selectmen who have the final authority to grant the license.

Nearly 1,000 Voters Change Their Party

The town clerk's office has been deluged the past week with party designation changes.

In the vicinity of 1,000 cards have been filed with the town clerk requesting a return to either independent status or party designation since the primary election on Tuesday, Sept. 16.

The influx has been attributed to a certain extent to the interest in two particular races involving Andover voters. The primary battle between Congressman James J. Shannon of Lawrence and Robert Hattem of Lowell, attracted considerable attention among local voters as well as the State Senate race between Sen. William X. Wall and Atty. Patricia McGovern of Lawrence. Shannon and McGovern were winners in the district wide voting as well as in Andover.

There are some cards available at the town clerk's office for those still wishing to change the designation attached to their name on the voting rolls. The change can be effected anytime between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday in the town clerk's office.

'Vale Residents Want Bradlee Torn Down Too

In the opinion of the Ballardvale Building Committee, it is finally time for the Ballardvale Community Center and Bradlee School to be torn down, a committee spokesman told the selectmen Monday night.

After a long fight to save the community center, which was closed last February because it was found unsafe by the building inspector, the committee of Ballardvale residents have decided that "it is time for the building to meet its fate," according to a letter addressed to the selectmen.

"We would just as soon see the building come down," committee spokesman Charles Murnane of 246 Andover St. told the selectmen, noting that 1980 annual town meeting appropriated funds for demolition of the building.

Ballardvale residents would like to see the land retained by the town, Murnane said, and properly graded and "kept in a neat condition" until a new use is found for the property.

He added that Ballardvale residents are dissatisfied with progress toward locating a temporary library in the 'Vale, to replace the branch library located in the closed community center.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark explained that previous plans to move the library into Cronin's Ice Cream on Dale Street fell through because that building would have been too expensive to renovate.

Instead, the Ballardvale Village Improvement Society is now considering moving the branch library into the Corner Cupboard building on Evergreen Drive, where only minor renovations are needed, Clark said.

He added that the main library has sorted books for the branch and is ready for the move.

The Bradlee School, closed some twenty years ago, should also be demolished to make way for single-family homes, Murnane said.

The committee suggested that the land and school either be sold together, or the building sold separately for salvage.

Abutters of the 2.3-acre school property are opposed to using the school for a commercial enterprise or low-income housing, Murnane said.

Although Ballardvale residents would not object to elderly housing in the school building, he said, that option is ruled out because the site does not meet federal and state standards for elderly housing, which include proximity to doctors and shopping centers.

Of the possibility of using the school as a professional building, Murnane said, "We don't want the state to come in and decide what you can do with this building — the building is not in as great shape as people seem to think it is, anyway."

Explaining the residents' decision to tear down the building, Murnane said, "For twenty years the town hasn't put anything in there. We don't want to see low-income housing in there, and it seems that's what would go in."

The town manager said no further town meeting approval would be required to sell or demolish the school, since town meeting approved sale of the building twenty years ago.

Selectmen chairman James Abramson said the board would discuss the Ballardvale committee's recommendations during their Oct. 6 conference session, and make a final decision on the fate of both the community center and the school on Oct. 14.

Murnane also offered the Ballardvale residents' opinion that Andover Street, from Hall Avenue to Dascomb Road, needs an improved drainage system, and should be resurfaced, because it is "in deplorable shape."

However, the residents do not wish the street to be widened, because they fear it would become "a racetrack" for drivers commuting to the Lowell Junction industrial area, he added.

According to Clark, the Ballardvale Village Improvement Society plans to present a final report on the future development of Ballardvale to both the selectmen and planning board within the next four to six weeks.

Vandalism Policy On Docket

The school committee will make its second pass at a vandalism policy that makes students more accountable for their actions, when it meets at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the West Elementary School Auditorium.

Under the policy, students who deliberately vandalize will make "restitution for the amount of the damage with an additional amount of time donated to the school affected."

In cases where the individuals responsible for vandalism aren't identified, the cost for replacement or repair will come out of that particular school's budget.

The students will be responsible for damage not caused by normal usage, such as graffiti on the bathroom walls.

Each principal will keep a log of vandalism in his school, and any damage over $100 will constitute a felony, and will be reported to the police.

Tax Relief Committee Is Named

A nine-member property tax relief committee was appointed by the selectmen Monday night, with the primary purpose of studying alternatives to Proposition 2½.

Members of the new committee are Ruth Dunbar, John Eaton, Joanne Marden, Don P. Scott, Philip Salamone, Milton Greenberg, George Neilson, George Forsythe, and William Munroe.

Andover is one of many communities the Massachusetts Municipal Association has enlisted in its fight to defeat Proposition 2½, a tax relief measure that will appear on the state ballot in November. The municipal association suggested the formation of the citizens' committee in a letter sent to the town manager in late July.

The committee will study the impact 2½ would have on Andover's economy, discuss alternative tax relief proposals, try to educate the community about property tax relief, and lobby the state legislature.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark pointed out that the committee is not intended to merely oppose 2½, but to focus on the issues of property tax relief in general.

Studying The 'Vale

Ballardvale residents seem to be getting a little ahead of themselves.

This week they recommended to the selectmen that both the Ballardvale Community Center building and the Bradlee School be torn down. At the same meeting it was reported that a study performed by the Ballardvale Village Improvement Society is expected to be presented to the town manager and selectmen within the next four to six weeks.

While there may be preliminary indications that the two buildings are to be recommended for demolition, it seems more in tune to await that final report which is expected to outline the overall thoughts about the future of the village.

While the suggestion that the community center building be torn down is probably valid, we would argue a bit with regard to the Bradlee School building.

The community center structure has been condemned and its cost for adequate repair is excessive, in comparison to its possible usefulness as a municipal facility.

That part we would have to be in agreement with the 'Vale residents.

But, the Bradlee building seems to be a structure worth keeping, although not as a municipal facility.

A year ago summer interns looked at the 'Vale and offered some recommendations to the Community Development and Planning Department.

Basically the study showed there is tremendous potential to the village, to retain its identity, while still subjecting the general area to development in the town's only major remaining area for constructions.

Our feeling then, as now, is that the 'Vale does offer tremendous potential for development, yet retaining the village and New England charm it once had.

The residents are interested in fostering that feeling through effort to retain library service, and in rebuilding the building at the Ballardvale playground.

Their interest is also exemplified by continued appearance before selectmen and the town manager with their thoughts and concerns.

Certainly they have impressed townspeople with their patience in waiting for improvements to Andover Street, better drainage facilities in some areas of town and, most of all, with the continued wait for a connector road from Route 93 into Lowell Junction.

It seems, then, that a little more time sacrificed on their part to await an overall report about the entire 'Vale area seems in order.

As for the Bradlee School building, it is true that it has been idle for over twenty years. But it appears structurally sound and usable through renovation to some purpose, probably in the multi-unit housing area. As such it could become a tax asset to the town.

Town and cities as well as private industry have begun to come to the realization that salvaging buildings like the Bradlee School can be beneficial, rather than resorting to the traditional modern approach of tearing them down.

Before ordering the 'headache ball' to the site, we would advise caution, with the hope that the property can become an appreciable part of the overall redevelopment of Ballardvale.

Down The Years With The Townsman

A request for an additional $200,000 for the new high school will come before the voters at a special town meeting. The School building committee has asked the selectmen to call the meeting Oct. 10 at 8 p.m.

A five-member industrial development committee has been appointed by the selectmen with the full cooperation of the Planning Board. It is expected that the group will meet within a week to organize and lay out plans to establish an active development program.

Pressing school problems, particularly the overcrowding at Central School, were the subject of a lengthy conference Sept. 26 between two members of the Planning Board and that board's engineer and consultant.

The first local firm to qualify for the United Fund honor roll is the Andover National Bank, according to general chairman Stafford A. Lindsay. Selectman Lindsay, in announcing the beginning of solicitation in the big gifts division here, said the bank had met the "fair share level of giving."

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

There are still some seats left on the bus that will take Andover senior citizens to OKTOBERFEST Oct. 5. The Sept. 30 bus is full. The total cost for the day - transportation, smorgasbord luncheon, and entertainment is $21. Get down to the Haven right away if you want to be sure of a place.

The Fall Movie Series begins next Monday, Sept. 29, at 2 p.m. and will feature the "Golden Age of Comedy." It is a hilarious review of scenes from silent films of the greatest slapstick comedians of the '20's including Ben Turpin, Will Rogers, and Laurel & Hardy.

Festa Italiana will be at The Haven Saturday evening, Oct. 18, beginning with dinner at 5:30, followed by entertainment—and all for $4! Get your tickets today at the senior center. It's bound to be a sell-out! If you need transportation, it can be arranged by calling The Haven.

There are still a few openings in classes that just began at The Haven. Why not stop by and see if there is something you'd love to learn about. And, in addition, there are three different kinds of dancing you can learn! Square dancing, line dancing and tap dancing! Stop by and learn more about the activities at the senior center on Essex Street. You will be made most welcome.

A trip to Olde Sturbridge Village is scheduled for Monday, Oct. 20. Reserventions cost $23 for the day and include transportation, lunch at the Village, as well as admissions and touring of this most fascinating step back into New England history.

If you have an October birthday, The Haven October Birthday Party will be held Oct. 2 - Thursday. Note that from now on birthday parties will be held on Thursday, instead of Wednesdays. If you tell the staff at the center the date of your birthday, you will be invited to be an honored guest the month of your birth. You don't have to tell them the year; just the month! Come be guest of honor!

It is not too early to sign up for a special day in November. On Nov. 16, there will be a theater party which will include luncheon at the King's Grant Inn in Beverly, and then on to the Cabot Theater for a performance of Le Grande David and His Magic Show. Cost, including transportation, is $15. But do sign up as soon as possible to avoid disappointment.

The next mini-clinic will be two weeks from now - Oct. 7 - at The Haven. Call the Health Department to schedule your appointment.

Pack 75 Registers

Friday, Sept. 26, will be Cub Scout School Night for St. Augustine's Pack 75. All current and prospective Cub Scouts should attend this meeting to register for the year.

Any 8 to 10 year old boy who has not completed fifth grade is eligible. This first Pack Meeting will be held in the school hall at 7:30 p.m. It is imperative that each boy bring a parent.

JACK ANDERSON AND JOE SPEAR

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Joint Chiefs' Prophecy:
1980s to Be Decade of DangerBy JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON -- The Joint Chiefs of Staff have warned that the 1980s will be a decade of danger. This urgent admonition is contained in a top-secret report on the military posture of the United States.

In terse language, the Joint Chiefs declare that the Soviet Union has gained military superiority over the United States in most areas. They blame past slashes in the defense budget, which cut too deep. "Even a sharp reversal of the trend," states the report, "cannot be expected to close the gap in military capital for several years to come."

For these reasons, the report continues, "the possibilities of a military confrontation with the Soviet Union will increase significantly in the first half of the decade." The Joint Chiefs term the early 1980s "a period of particular danger to American security interests."

Of course, the United States still has a powerful nuclear striking force. So the Joint Chiefs don't anticipate, as they put it, "a bolt-out-of-the-blue strategic attack on the United States." Instead, they believe that the "shifting strategic balance" may embolden the Russians "to take military action to exploit instability in the Third World when it occurs."

In fact, the Joint Chiefs believe this has already begun. They call the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan, "a leading-edge event." They point out this is the first time Soviet combat troops have been sent into action outside the Soviet bloc since World War II. This "may signal the kind of threat to U.S. security interests which will be increasingly important in the 1980s."

The Joint Chiefs don't think the Kremlin wants World War III. But they warn that the Soviet leadership's "adventurous behavior" might lead to a "serious miscalculation and run the risk of precipitating a confrontation which neither side wants nor intends."

Where will this confrontation most likely occur? States the posture report: "The greatest vulnerability appears in the Middle East - Persian Gulf - Indian Ocean region. It is there we must direct our priority attention."

The Joint Chiefs suggest that both the Soviet Union and the United States may compete for Middle East oil in the 1980s. Already, the Russians are encroaching upon the area. The Joint Chiefs warn that "a crisis could result at any time, which could curtail access to the oil that is required by the United States and its allies."

Yet the Soviets have an enormous military advantage in the Persian Gulf region. They could send 23 divisions, for example, blasting across the border into Iran. And the United States would have to resort to nuclear weapons to stop them.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CONNECTION: One American official has been in constant contact with the Iranian leadership since the beginning of the hostage crisis. He is Rep. George Hansen, R-Idaho, and he is still in touch with Tehran.

Only a few days ago, a key Iranian official managed to slip into Washington for a visit with Hansen. The Iranian brought the message that his government is ready to explore ways to free the hostages.

From the beginning, the Iranians have favored a people-to-people approach. They wanted to attempt this through contacts between the Iranian parliament and the U.S. Congress. They tried to open this channel late last year through Rep. Hansen and former Sen. James Abourezk, D-S.D.

Both were in Tehran at the time. Both had direct access to Iranian leaders. Both urged the parliament-to-Congress approach. Yet both were rebuffed by the White House and the State Department. In fact, President Carter's press secretary, Jody Powell, accused Hansen of meddling.

Hansen suspects that Carter simply wants the credit for any hostage release. For, at the same time that the parliament-to-Congress approach was rejected, the president asked his brother, Billy Carter, to make an approach through the renegade Libyan leader Muammar Qaddafi.

The frustrated Hansen posed this urgent question in a private letter to Secretary of State Edmund Muskie:

"How can anyone explain to the hostages and their families ... that this ordeal goes on primarily because the United States stubbornly clings to a policy that anyone but the Congress can be involved in resolving the hostages crisis? Billy Carter, the Libyans, the PLO, surrogate nations and questionable foreign agents have all been called upon, but not the one avenue the Iranians have requested or suggested from the earliest days -- the Congress. Why?"

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES: When President Carter traveled to the Vienna summit last June, he took along an entourage of 666 people, including public relations personnel, security guards and aides to aides. Cost to the taxpayers, not counting transportation: $423,000 ... Republican senators and staffers who are probing Billy Carter's ties with Libya have been deeply impressed with White House counsel Lloyd Cutler. "If Lloyd Cutler had counseled Richard Nixon," said one aide, "maybe Watergate would never have happened" ... The Democrats in the Billygate probe, incidentally, are hopping mad because they believe the Republicans are dragging out the investigation to keep them from campaigning actively.

Warrior Rally Stuns Wilmington, 27-14

By Rick Harrison

The law of averages takes a vacation when the Andover and Wilmington High football teams get together.

For the past three years the Golden Warriors had rallied in the closing minutes of play to pull out pulsating victories over Wilmington.

It hardly seemed possible that Andover could have another Houdini-like escape buried in its bag of tricks, but last Saturday AHS rallied for 20 fourth quarter points to overcome a 14-7 deficit and stun the Wildcats 27-14 in the 1980 Merrimack Valley Conference opener for both schools before 1,000 fans at Lovely Field.

Back in 1977, quarterback Dan Welsh threw up a prayer from midfield with no time showing on the clock, and Rick Collins caught the ball inside the five yard line and dragged two Wilmington defenders into the endzone to give Andover a 14-10 victory.

With time running out in the 1978 game, and No. 1 quarterback Manny Silva on the sidelines with a shoulder injury, Tom Walsh came in and tossed a 20-yard scoring strike to Paul Farnham to snap a tie and propel Andover to a 21-14 triumph over Wilmington.

Last year, trailing 8-6 late in the fourth period, the Warriors once again displayed their poise and big-play offense to eke out a 14-8 victory.

Coach John Ritchie had to figure it was Wilmington's turn this time around, but junior quarterback Brian Moriarty apparently felt otherwise as he passed for two touchdowns and scored the insurance TD himself in Saturday's confidence-building win.

Moriarty, making his first varsity start, had completed just one pass in the first three quarters. However, in the final 8½ minutes he connected on six key aeriels for 136 yards and the two vital touchdowns.

The Warriors' defense also came up big in two crucial situations down the homestretch, stopping Wilmington at the AHS 35 and 11 yard lines on fourth down plays.

The defense forced five Wildcats' turnovers, with interceptions by Glenn McIntyre, Mike Chiklis and Carmen Scarpa, and fumble recoveries by Jim DePiano and Mike White.

Wilmington, with eight players going both ways, obviously tired in the late stages and simply couldn't put the clamps on the Warriors' traditionally explosive run-and-shoot attack.

Quick Start

Andover, which had problems moving the ball until the fourth quarter eruption, did all of its first-half damage on its opening scrimmage play of the new season.

McIntyre put a halt to Wilmington's initial series with a leaping pass interception at the visitors' 39 yardline, and the Golden Warriors went downtown immediately.

Moriarty pitched the ball to running back Wayne Merola, who is also a back-up QB, and he lofted a 39-yard touchdown toss to senior wide receiver Bob Heidt who was open by 10 yards when he made the catch at the Wilmington 15.

Mike Reilly drilled the first of his three perfect placements, and with the season just 1:46 old Andover was sitting atop a 7-0 lead.

Unfortunately, the offense was to manage only 40 more yards in the opening half, and just a paltry 17 yards in three third quarter series before Moriarty got hot.

Jubilant Warriors

Brian Moriarty left, and Mark Pelletier celebrate the fourth and final touchdown in Andover High's 27-14 win over Wilmington last Saturday at Lovely field. Quarterback Moriarty put the cap on the scoring and insuring the opening day victory with a spectacular dash down the sidelines in the closing minutes of the game.

Comeback

An illegal receiver downfield penalty killed the Warriors' on their second possession, nullifying a nice catch by junior end Tim Grams who had to come back to corral Russ Lewis' option pass.

Moments later, however, Quad-Capt. DePiano pounced on a Mark Boudreau fumble to give AHS a golden opportunity at the Wildcats' 30.

The chance was short-lived, because Wilmington sophomore Ed Olshaw came up with a superb diving interception of a Moriarty pass two plays later.

Early in the second period the Wildcats were forced to punt from midfield, but the ball was bobbled inside the 10 yard line and junior Ken Runge recovered the AHS fumble at the Warriors' six.

Quarterback Glen Sargent, who completed nine straight passes during one stretch and enjoyed tremendous success all afternoon with short tosses over the middle, wasted no time firing a TD strike to junior halfback Craig Richards.

Wilmington lined up to kick the point, but instead used a favorite play of Pitt's by hiking the ball diagonally to Matt Phillips. He bulled over for the conversion and an 8-7 Cats' edge at 2:29.

The visitors held Andover on its next series, then mounted their lone sustained scoring drive of the afternoon following a Tom Wilkins' punt.

Wilmington marched 69 yards in nine plays, Sargent completing five short passes for 45 yards and Phillips ripping off 20 yards on three carries.

The payoff was a 15 yard aerial from Sargent to Rusty Ryan, and when DePiano blocked Olshaw's attempted PAT kick it was 14-7 with 2:10 to play in the half.

Wilmington had time to mount one more serious threat, advancing the ball to the AHS 32 following a flea-flicker play from Sargent to Ted Moran to Phillips.

Sargent dropped back to pass again, but Steve Stabile tipped the ball and Quad-Capt. Chiklis picked it off at the Golden Warriors' 10.

Neither team got beyond midfield in the defense-oriented third quarter, which saw five punts exchanged and one fumble recovery by junior defensive end Mike White of Andover.

Fireworks

The Andover fireworks finally started early in the fourth quarter, with Moriarty's all-around play evoking memories of recent outstanding Warrior quarterbacks like Scott Seero, Mark Sweetser, Jeff Winters, Bill Alexander, Manny Silva, Tom Walsh and Dan Welsh.

The sputtering ceased when Andover drove 61 yards in four plays to deadlock the game with 8:34 remaining.

Moriarty sandwiched a 15 yard completion to Lewis around a pair of misguided missiles, and then zipped a bullet to Wayne Merola at the left sideline. The Wilmington defensive back tried for the interception—missed—and Merola was off to the races to complete a pretty 46 yard scoring play.

With plenty of time left, Andover Coach Dick Collins decided to tie the game and sent Reilly in to split the uprights for a 14-14 score.

Reilly followed with a booming 55 yard kickoff to the Wilmington five, but Olshaw responded with an excellent 50 yard return to the AHS 45 before Reilly upended him to save a touchdown.

A pair of short passes from Sargent to Richards set up a fourth-and-one situation at the Andover 35.

Richards tried the right side of the Andover line, but he was buried short of the first down by Tim Grams, Mike Chiklis and John Senee.

Six plays later Moriarty had Andover in the lead for good.

He began rolling out successfully to his left, hitting Lewis with a 12 yard pass and following an 11-yard sack with a clutch 37 yard screen pass to Tom Wilkins. Wilkins almost went the distance, but Wilmington defensive end Scott Holloway caught him from behind at the Cats' 26 yardline.

Taking the Lead

An eight yard toss to Lewis brought the ball to the 18, and Moriarty completed the well-engineered 64-yard drive with a touchdown pass over the middle to Glenn McIntyre. McIntyre beat Matt Phillips to the ball and made a leaping catch.

Reilly's conversion lifted the count to 21-14 with 4:20 to play.

The Wildcats clawed back, however, taking the ensuing kickoff and penetrating Andover territory on the strength of a 31 yard flea-flicker from Sargent to Rusty Ryan to Phillips.

Sargent found Phillips with a 20 yard pass to the Warriors' 18, where once again the defense met the challenge.

Sargent floated a pass to Richards at the goalline, but it was batted away and almost intercepted by Quad-Capt. Heidt.

Another aerial went incomplete, and a short toss to Joe Burbine was good for just four yards to the 14.

Faced with a fourth-and-6, Wilmington elected to go with an option play but Sargent was stopped at the 11 as he kept the ball.

At this point, there were three minutes to play, and Moriarty escaped the shadow of the goalline with a crucial 22 yard run in a pivotal third-and-7 situation.

Short bursts by Lewis and Merola advanced the ball to the Andover 43, and from there Moriarty zig-zagged his way to the right and broke free for a 57 yard touchdown gallop down the sidelines.

Parade

It's that time of year again when fire engines from all over New England will be gathering for the giant Annual Boston Fire Parade, a city tradition since 1911! On Sunday, Oct. 5, commencing (rain or shine) at 1 p.m., the parade of apparatus will wind its way from City Hall to the waterfront culminating in a gathering for display at the Arthur Fiedler Station of the Boston Fire Museum at 344 Congress St. The curbs of Congress Street, from Museum Wharf on the Fort Point Channel to well down past the firehouse, will be reserved for the dozens of engines expected. Participating will be numerous local fire departments as well as private collectors of antique fire trucks.

The Arthur Fiedler Station, a Boston firehouse from 1895 to 1976, will eventually be restored by the Fire Museum to house exhibits devoted to the history of the fire service and modern means of fire prevention. The Station will be open throughout the day as a hospitality center.

Law Seminar

A one day seminar on law office management and economics, sponsored by the Lawrence Bar Association, will be held on Saturday, Sept. 27, in the McQuade Library at Merrimack College, North Andover.

The seminar is being presented by Altman and Weil, Inc., a nationally known consulting organization which specializes in working with lawyers. Some of the topics to be covered are: Forming a Group Law Practice, Partner/Shareholder Compensation, and Simple and Effective Systems for Your Office.

The morning session will begin at 9 a.m. and the afternoon session will conclude at 4:30 p.m. A luncheon will be served. Those interested are asked to contact Attorney Thomas F. Caffrey for further details.

Reilly's attempted kick, but with 48 seconds left it made little difference.

Carmen Scarpa drove the final nail by intercepting a desperation heave by Sargent near midfield on the last play.

Statistics

Thanks to its big fourth quarter, Andover emerged with statistical advantages in yards rushing (133-83), yards passing (177-175), and total yardage from scrimmage (310-258).

Wilmington had the edge in first downs (14-9) and scrimmage plays (60-54).

Moriarty was the game's top rusher with 92 yards in 10 carries, and except for the 11 yard sack, would have surpassed 100 yds.

Workhorse Matt Phillips led the Wilmington ground attack with 53 yards in 17 totes.

Passes were completed to six different AHS receivers, with Russ Lewis snagging three and one each going to Wayne Merola, Bob Heidt, Mike Chiklis, Tom Wilkins and Glenn McIntyre.

Moriarty was 7-for-17 and his backs 1-for-2.

Sargent finished the contest 16-for-26, with Rusty Ryan and Craig Richards both making four catches and Joe Burbine, three.

Wilkins unloaded a 65 yard punt on his first attempt and finished the game with a 37.2 yard average for five boots.

Defense

The defense featured many fine performances, including those by Brian Feeney, Craig Hyslip, Bryan White, Chiklis, Grams, White, Heidt, McIntyre, Scarpa, Steve Stabile and Jim DePiano.

Playing consistently in the offensive line were Scott Robichaud, Brian Bald and Bill Powell.

The Golden Warriors shoot for their second straight victory this Saturday (1:30 p.m.) at Austin Prep, and return home October 4 to battle Greater-Lawrence Regional for the first time on the gridiron.

Austin opened its season on a successful note last Saturday, scoring twice in the second half to overcome Greater-Lowell Regional 21-12.

AHS Girls To Face Lexington

The Andover High Girls Soccer team will be looking for their first win of the season Friday afternoon when they travel to Lexington.

The girls have lost two games to date, dropping the opener to Burlington, 2-1, and bowing 6-0 to Winchester.

Offensive standouts in the opener against Burlington were Davynne

Williams, who scored the lone Warrior goal, and Heather Thomson. Michelle Guzowski and Lele Rochwarg contributed good defensive efforts. Connie Corkery, a sophomore, played excellent in her first appearance in goal.

The JV team topped Burlington 3-2, on two goals by Allison Hill and a lone score by Joanne Convey.

At Winchester, the Warriors faced a highly skilled veteran team, but Andover played a highly spirited game throughout. Beth Luciano played well on both offense and defense and Connie Corkery turned in an excellent game in goal, turning back 26 shots including some spectacular saves.

Captains of this year's varsity team are Lauren Whitley, a senior, and Karen Hardock, a junior.

Salute To Tall Ships

"A Salute to the Tall Ships," an exhibit of photographs, a film and other information from the seven countries that sent Tall Ships to Boston, continues through the summer at the USS Constitution Museum and Art Gallery, Charlestown Navy Yard.

Church Hoop Registering

The Andover Church Basketball League is conducting registration for the 1980-81 season.

The following church coordinators are now signing up youth (8-15) for league play: Rev. Dave Hollenbeck, Ballardvale United; Don Rathbun, Baptist; Mike Robinson, Christ; Ray Rourke, St. Augustine's; Bob French, St. Roberts; Bob Schmidt, South; Rupert Lowe and Rick Harrison, West Parish.

Youths who live in Andover and do not attend church, or youths who attend an Andover church that does not have a team, may register for league play. Registration forms are available from the above coordinators or may be obtained at the Andover Hockey Shop or the Sports Shop.

Warrior Booters Lose Heartbreaker

By She Livermore

The Golden Warriors won a two goal victory against Greater Lawrence Regional Technical High School, and lost a heartbreaker to Methuen when time ran out, in soccer action last week. The encounter with the Voke was the first in five years and due to the expansion of the Merrimack Valley League. The League is now divided into two divisions — East and West — with Andover in the East together with Methuen, Lawrence, Austin-Prep, Greater Lawrence Regional, and Haverhill, the other new addition. The West Division includes perennial champions Billerica, Wilmington, Tewksbury, Chelmsford and two additions, Lowell and Greater Lowell Vocational. Andover will play teams in the East Division twice and the West Division once during the season. The League will crown a single Champion based on percentage of wins.

Andover 2 Greater Lawrence Regional 0

Andover dominated the game and outshot the Voke about 40-15. The first goal was scored by Steve Carbone about ten minutes into the contest, after intense pressure by the Voke almost resulted in a tally; only a great block by fullback Dave Robinson denied the Voke's efforts to get on the scoreboard. Steve took a hard pass from Co-Captain Paul Reichert, controlled it well, turned and drilled it into the net. With two minutes left in the first half, Dan Roberts scored the Warrior's second and final goal after receiving a great pass from his brother Adam.

During the second half, Andover continued the pressure but was unable to find the range. Brian Butler preserved his second shut-out with an excellent save, pushing the ball over the crossbar, and denying a certain shot by the Voke into the top corner of the net.

After the first ten minutes lapse, Andover's defense played a strong game and turned back many bids from the skilled Voke players. Dave Sherman did an excellent job, as did John Lemieux and Yvan Levesque. Todd Lockwood played very well at centre fullback during his time on the field. Centre halfbacks Paul Thoday and Dan Donovan accounted for nine of the shots on the Voke nets and although none of them found the range, they contributed greatly to the pressure. Mark Easton, Chris Bates and Dan Boland

Country Music

For the first time ever, grandstand entertainment at the upcoming 156th annual Topsfield Fair, Oct. 4-13, will focus on a single dominant theme—country music.

The widely known personalities and groups who will perform during the ten day Fair "Country Music Classic" will feature Boston-born Danny Davis and the Nashville Brass, Oct. 10 and 11; Sonny James, Oct. 7; The Spurrilows, Oct. 9; Rita Rose and Her Nashville Revue, Oct. 4, 5, and 6; Jimmy and Peggy Gross, Oct. 10, and Tommy Rynick and the Country Travelers on closing day, Oct. 13.

played an excellent game at halfback.

Victor Gonzales, goalie for the Voke, played an outstanding game, as well as their centre fullback Tim McCracken.

Andover 2 Methuen 3

Andover suffered its first setback to a fired up Methuen team on Saturday. After turning back intense pressure in the first ten minutes, the Warriors scored on their first shot by Adam Roberts on a pass from Dan Roberts. Towards the end of the first half, Methuen picked up a misplaced Andover pass to its goal keeper and completed to tie the game.

In the second half, Methuen scored again to take the lead. Andover came back with 6 minutes remaining and tied up the game on a goal booted in by Adam Roberts with an assist by Paul Thoday. Andover held the tie until 30 seconds remained when Methuen broke in again and put the ball into the net. Andover did not give up, brought the ball back down, and was awarded a direct kick in front of the Methuen goal with 10 seconds to go; after two yellow cards had been handed out to Methuen for encroachment, Andover took the kick and forced a corner kick. With 5 seconds remaining, Wong Dang put a beautiful corner kick in front of the Methuen net which ultimately found its way in with help from Dan Roberts; however, the referee judged that the time had expired!! This was a difficult way to lose the two points but Andover proved to itself that they have the ability to meet any challenge.

Playing well despite the disappointing result was Dan Boland, Dan Donovan, Paul Thoday, Chris Bates, and goalie Brian Butler. Methuen outshot Andover three to one and Brian Butler turned back many bids that might have been successful.

The Warriors will play host to Lawrence on Friday, the 26th, at 3:15 p.m. Lawrence is currently undefeated having tied Methuen 1-1.

Colts 6 - Dolphins 2

After the opening kickoff by Robert Nelson of the Dolphins the Colts gave the ball away due to a strong defense, led by Tom Finneran and Scott Grant. The Dolphins then started a sustained drive of three first downs with the running of Nelson and Mark Polakow. A motion penalty gave the ball back to Colts at the end of the quarter.

After one first down with the running of Chris Bartley and Robert Carpentier the Colts then again gave the ball up. The Dolphins then started another sustained drive but were stopped. The first half ended.

In the third quarter the B teams marched out onto the field with the Dolphins to receiver. Good running by backs Louis LoPresti, Brendan Lynch and Steve D'Urso controlled the ball for all but four plays in the quarter. On the last play Dolphins Mike Powers scored a safety by tackling Scott Wallace in the Colts endzone.

The Dolphins then tried vainly to salvage the game but gave the ball away. The Colts Robert Ditroia ran a 40 yard T.D. run. The extra point was no good.

For one final try the Dolphins went all out but could not score due to Colts strong defense led by Andrew Grant, Mike Hart and Chris Bartley.

Colts stars included Matt Aumais and B-teamer John Twomey.

Dolphins were led by Scott Grant, Robert Nelson, Philip Newman and B-teamers Anthony Scioli and Louis LoPresti.

Vikings 6 - Redskins 0

The Vikings opened the 1980 season with a bang Sunday as they defeated a sturdy Redskin team 6-0. In an action packed game the only touch down occurred when quarterback John Perry threw to Rich Bourdelais who made a fine catch in the endzone.

The Viking offensive drive was powered by David Salisbury who totaled about 40 yards on the afternoon and Steve Redgate. Defensive standouts for the Vikes were Walter Radulski.

Even though the Redskins lost they deserved an "A" for effort. The offensive thrust came from Scott Kelley and George Haseltine. The defensive standouts for the Skins were Jeff Driscoll, Mike Lane and Matt DuFresne.

Next week the Redskins will take on the Colts and the Vikings will go up against the Dolphins. These games will start at 1 p.m.

Three North Andover residents are members of the 1980 Plymouth State College field hockey team, Plymouth, N. H. whose fall campaign is now underway.

The students are Cheryl MacDonald, a 5'5" freshman physical education major who will play halfback; M. B. Lawlor, a 5'1" junior physical education major and who will play wing; and Amy Burns, a 5'3" freshman business management major who will play wing.

Head Coach Dot Diehl, entering her seventh year at the helm of the Panthers, is optimistic about the upcoming year. "It is going to be a challenging season, but if we can get our attack to click we will do all right," she predicts.

The Panthers will be playing three of New England's top Division I schools during the season: Dartmouth, University of Maine — Orono and Bridgewater, and Division II powers Northeastern, Boston College and Boston University.

Andover Hockey Association

The Andover Hockey Association began the 1980-1981 season with tryouts at the Wilmington Youth Ice Arena, Sept. 6-7-8. The teams selected will each play a 60-game schedule, divided evenly between the Wilmington and Danvers Twin Rinks Leagues. Andover will field one Bantam (13-14 year olds) team, two Pee Wee (11-12) teams, and two Squirt (9-10) teams. A Mite (7-8) team may be formed to play a limited schedule after the Hockey Association's Clinic and House programs begin at Phillips Academy in November. The Bantam Head Coach for the 1980-81 season will be Charlie Donovan, assisted by Bill Crawford and Lou Lopresti. Paul Gilmartin will coach the Pee Wee A's, and George Heseltine will assist. The Pee Wee B's will be led by John Young and assistant Frank Nelligan. The Squirt A Head Coach will be Fran Ferrara, and Steve Cooper will again assist. The Squirt B's will be directed by new Head Coach Larry DiStefano and Assistant Coaches Mike Murnane and Luke Camarota. Details on the Clinic and House Programs will be available at a later date.

Pee Wee A

Andover 7 — Triton 5

It took Coach Paul Gilmartin's Pee Wee A's three games to finally get untracked, but they did just that with a 7-5 victory over Triton in a Danvers Twin Rinks League game on Sunday, Sept. 21. After putting together only two good periods of their first six in Wilmington League losses to Acton-Boxborough and Billerica, the A's settled down to play fairly solid hockey for most of their opening game in Danvers and came away with the win. The victory over Triton was anchored by the fine play of goaltenders Kenny Young and Greg Najjar.

Georgie Heseltine opened the scoring for Andover early in the first period, converting on a play set up by linemate Jamie O'Brien and defenseman David Curtis. Less than a minute later Stevie Donovan scored his first goal of the season to give Andover a 2-0 lead. The assist on the play went to defenseman Matt Shine who rushed the puck into the zone. Andover scored again a short time later, with Georgie Heseltine finishing off a nice play begun by David Curtis. Triton scored single goals late in the first period and early in the second to make the score 3-2, but Mossa Kaleel hustled to score two goals 18 seconds apart giving Andover a comfortable 3 goal lead. Mossa's first goal was set up by a fine Earl Abdoo rush and the second was unassisted. Triton closed to 5-3 early in the third period before David Young finished off a beautiful rush with a goal to give Andover a 3 goal lead again. David Curtis picked up his third assist of the game on the play. Andover then got careless in the defensive zone and Triton scored two quick goals to make it 6-5. Triton then pulled their goaltender but defensemen Paul Gilmartin, Shannon McCabe and Timmy Donovan made key plays to break up Triton rushes. Jamie O'Brien iced the victory with an empty net goal with 19 seconds left after forwards David Bartle and Mark Neeves had pestered Triton's forwards in their defensive zone. Forwards Cort Pomeroy and Jeff McNeil deserve a special note for their hustle throughout the game.

Squirt B's

Andover 4 — Swampscott 1

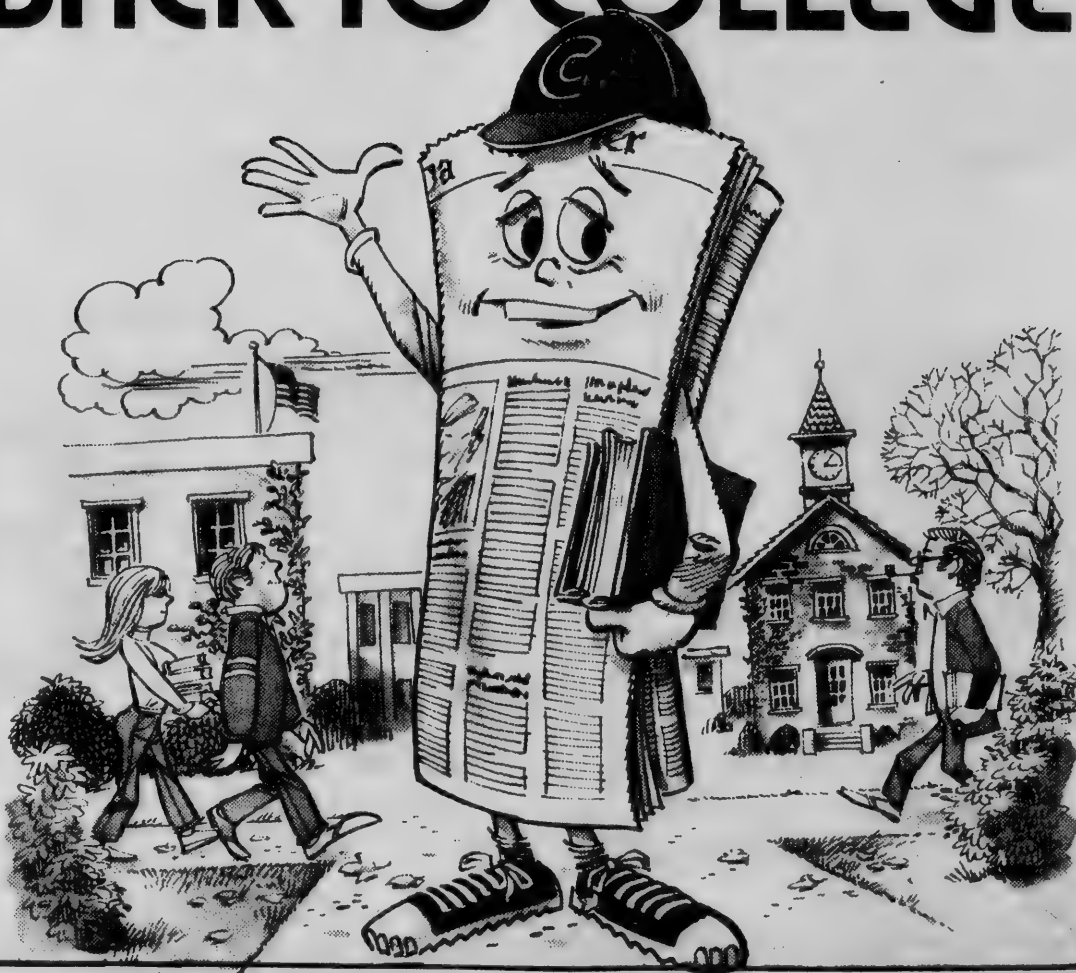

Coach Larry DiStefano's Squirt B's have made significant progress over the last two weeks. After absorbing a pounding from Manchester Flames I in their opening game two weeks ago, the B's came back with a 4-1 win over Swampscott and lost 3-1 to Manchester Flames II last weekend.

David Sopp scored the Squirt B's first goal of the year late in the first period of their game last Saturday against Swampscott. David's goal gave Andover a

1-0 lead. The assist on the score went to center Matt Pothier. The Pothier-Sopp-Gary Blesinski line was very effective throughout the game. Swampscott tied the game at 1-1, scoring from a scramble in front after goalie Mike Murnane had made several good saves. Swampscott had other chances later in the first period but Mike and defensemen Danny Iandoli and Chip Stella kept them from scoring. David Sopp scored again on a fine rush to give Andover a 2-1 lead. Assists went to Danny Iandoli and Michael Tiberii. The Todd

At Springfield

David Farrell of Andover, a graduate of Andover High, is a member of the Springfield College varsity soccer team. The Chiefs, coached by Irv Schmid for the 33rd consecutive season, finished with a 9-7-1 record a year ago. This fall they will enter the Northeast-7 Conference, and they have been rated second in a pre-season coaches poll. A junior forward, Farrell will be playing his second varsity season. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Farrell of 6 Strawberry Hill Road in Andover.

Hockey

Roycroft-Michael DiStefano-Jimmy Morris line then had chances to increase the lead but the Swampscott goalie turned several good shots away. Jonathan Shine then gave Andover a 3-1 lead, pouncing on a loose puck outside the crease and putting it in for the score. Jonathan's linemates D.J. Camarota and Timmy Sullivan had kept the puck in the zone with a lot of hustle before the score. Matt Pothier scored Andover's fourth goal on a fine rush. Assists went to David Sopp and Jimmy Morris. New Squirt goalie Michele DiStefano played the second half of the game, making several good stops to preserve the win for Andover.

Manchester Flames II 3 Andover 1

The B's backed up their Saturday win with a very fine effort against a strong Manchester Flames team but lost 3-1 in a very good game. Andover goalies Michael Murnane and Michele DiStefano were again outstanding in the nets. The B's Todd Roycroft-David Sopp-Gary Blesinski line put pressure on Manchester every time out but could not score. Andover's only score came midway through the second period when Matt Pothier centering a line with wingers Michael DiStefano and

Jimmy Morris rushed the length of the ice and beat the Manchester goalie. Andover's defensemen, led by Chip Stella, Timmy Sullivan and Danny Iandoli played well throughout the game. Michael Tiberii, Johathan Shine and D.J. Camarota also played very well for the B's. Their next game is Saturday, Sept. 27 in Danvers.

Exhibit

Opening at the Essex Institute, 132 Street through Nov. 23, is a special exhibition entitled "Tools and Utensils of the Past." This display is located in the Print Room of the museum's gallery.

The office condo. A logical deduction.

"Office condominiums are starting to catch on. Doctors, Lawyers, and business owners want to escape ever-rising rents and cash in on appreciating office property values."

-The Wall Street Journal
August 6, 1980

And cashing in is precisely what they are doing - at The Willows Professional Condominium Office Park.

Accountants, attorneys, financial consultants, realtors and other smart-money business professionals have already bought up half of the luxury townhouse office condos at The Willows - in about two months. And the other half will be snapped up long before they're built.

Why? Because the smart businesses have enough sense to come in out of the rain and shelter their income and net worth.

They know that renting office space is taking twelve steps backward every year - toward net worthlessness. While owning your own office makes every monthly payment a contribution towards your assets, not your landlord's.

And of course, there's depreciation, interest write-offs, skyrocketing property values, and the pure financial clout that comes with equity building.

Location? One of the best. On route 114 in North Andover. Minutes from major highways. And in the middle of one of Massachusetts' fastest growing business and residential areas.

Amenities? Simply everything you can think of. And a few more. Like a free membership in the Willows Racquet Club next door.

Price? $84,900 per unit of 1080 sq.ft. Units available up to 4,320 sq.ft. The Willows. A whole new lifestyle for your business. And a smart new way to shelter your income and net worth.

Come visit our model. Open Monday-Friday, 11am to 4pm. Or call for an appointment.

On The Soccer Fields

By She Livermore

The Andover Soccer Association's Fall Program officially began on Saturday, September 13th, with 74 teams comprising over 1,200 youth taking to the fields for practice sessions. League play began last Saturday and brief results of the games in the Under 10, Under 12 and Under 14/16 Divisions (boys and girls) appear below:

Under 10 Division:

Express 3 — Stings 1

With less than a full complement of players, the Stings were challenged by the Express throughout much of the game. The Express took the lead when J. B. Burgess scored on a pass by Tom Cioffi and Toby Frothingham; The Stings tied it up in the third quarter (David Sopp). The Express kept up the pressure and booted in two more goals (Tom Cioffi on a pass by Tony Cioffi, and J. B. Burgess) to win the victory points. BOW: Steffan Tomlinson and Ricky Banzi (Stings) as well as David Wager and Doug Bleszinski (Express).

Fury 1 — Metros 1

The Metros took an early lead when Steve Napolitano assaulted the nets on a pass from Chris Eggert. The Fury worked hard to tie it up and made some good shots on the nets, finally succeeding in completing one in the final quarter (David Stark on a pass from Ames Prentiss) to make it a hard fought tie game. BOW: Mike Biondo, Alex Egmont and Mike Kalil (Metros) as well as Michael Flynn, Michael LeBreck and J. V. Fox (Fury).

Rogues 3 — Hurricanes 1

The game was tied up at the end of the second quarter, Chris Kew having scored for the Rogues and Jeff Hurley for the Hurricanes. The Rogues played a very strong third and fourth quarter, controlled the play and won the points when Jim Sullivan assaulted the nets twice on passes from Steve Wrigley and Rich Atkinson. BOW: Karl Anderson, Kevin Henderson and Paul Van der Weilen (Rogues).

Sockers 4 — Surf 0

The Sockers were more successful with their shots on the nets in their game with the Surf and as a result they tallied four goals (Thacher Worthen on a pass from Mike Faraci, Matt Cinelli on a pass from Robert DiAdamo, Matt Corbett, and Matt Pothier on a pass from Brent Garcia) to win the victory points. BOW: John Matola, Jonathan Penney and Derek Holmes (Sockers) as well as Kevin Newman and Peter Cookson (Surf).

Quakes 3 — Stompers 1

The Stompers took an early lead when Steven Howes kicked the ball into the nets. The Quakes applied intense pressure in the final quarter and scored three goals, all of them booted in by Scott Clementi, one on a pass by Mark Angelos, Jimmy Murphy and Douglas Rogers, thereby winning the points. BOW: Mark Angelos and Booth Kyle (Stompers) as well as Doug Howes and Tommy DeBenedictis (Quakes).

Strikers 3 — Tea-Men 1

The Strikers struck, a total of three times successfully, in the first, second and final quarter (Steve McSweeney on a pass from Billy Ernesto Martin, Jeff Ranelli (2) on passes from Tommy Tormey and Steve McSweeney). The spirited Tea-Men booted in the ball in the third quarter (Jamie Spinelli) but were still down at the final whistle. BOW: Greg DeVoir, Steve DeVoir and Devon Arsenault (Strikers) as well as Brad Reghitto, Jeff Edwards and Goalie Andy Weiner (Tea-Men).

Aztecs 0 — Kicks 0

Excellent goal tending and great defensive tactics by both teams resulted in a scoreless game, with both teams splitting the points. BOW: Goalie Terri Babine, Joan Asgeirsson and Hakika Keith (Aztecs).

Timbers 1 — Cosmos 0

The Timbers took the lead in the second quarter when Jennifer Kasper booted in the ball on a fine pass by Jill Goldman. The Cosmos made numerous shots on the opposition's goal throughout the entire game, pressuring the defense, but brilliant goal tending by Bonny Weinstein and Debi Freeman denied all efforts. BOW: Chris Recesso, Kim Wilkins and Nancy Abramson (Cosmos) as well as the Timbers defensive line.

Diplomats 0 — Sounders 0

Both teams played a very good defensive game and whenever the ball entered their goal zone, they quickly booted it back to midfield. As a consequence neither team tallied and the end result was a scoreless tie game. BOW: Debbie

Williams and Kirsten Beigel (Diplomats) as well as Jennifer Milne and Anna Nakasone (Sounders).

White Caps 3 — Tornados 0

The Tornados were challenged by the WhiteCaps who controlled much of the play and succeeded in getting the ball into the nets on three occasions (Pamela Egan, Sarah Grecoe and Mina Sheel) to win the victory points. BOW: Kim Heseltine and Sheryl Manies (WhiteCaps).

Lancers 2

North Andover Salamanders 0

The Lancers journeyed to North Andover, controlled much of the play in their game with the Salamanders, and returned home with the points, having scored two goals (Sarah Leary on passes by Beth Fagan and Karen Maxwell, and Tricia Novelline on a pass by Liza DiClemente) in the first and second quarters. BOW: Joelle Johnson and Kathleen Radulski.

Under 12 Division

Arsenal 0 — Chelsea 3

Chelsea forced Arsenal into a defensive position in the first half of the game and were able to get the ball into their nets twice (Michael Coco, both on passes from Bill Earnshaw). Arsenal played stronger in the second half, denied Chelsea several attempts to increase their lead, although they did make it three when Robert Thompson penetrated the defensive line successfully. BOW: Tim Higgins and Goalie Bruce Crawford (Arsenal).

Crystal Palace 3 Ipswich 0

The Ipswich players controlled much of the action in the first quarter but good defensive play thwarted all attempts to tally. Crystal Palace put on the pressure in the second quarter and scored two goals (Jay DuHadway and Jeff Smith on a pass from Henning Ohlenbusch) to take the lead. They increased it by one (Russ LaMontagne on a pass from Mike Moriarty) in the third, and at the final whistle had won a three goal victory. BOW: Tim Smith, Lance Kalfelz and David Bartle (Ipswich) as well as Bobbie Pothier, John Nuzzo and John Gangi (Crystal Palace).

Coventry 5 — Blackpool 3

The lead flipped back and forth as each team assaulted the nets successfully. When the whistle blew, Coventry had five and Blackpool three, and Coventry were the victors. Goals were scored by Steve Colitz on a pass from Jon Pedicino, Wayne Crowninshield on passes by Jon Pedicino and Stephane Kirkland, Chris Abell (2) and Jeff Leonard (Coventry); scoring the Blackpool goals were Scott Wilkins on passes by Chris Poor and Mike Burke, Chris Poor and Jim Saalfrank on passes by Brian Worcester and Chris Poor. BOW: Bob Boshar and Bryan Poisson (Coventry).

Manchester 5 — Leeds 4

At the end of the third quarter, Leeds held a one goal lead. Manchester played a spirited final quarter, tied it up and booted in the winning goal shortly before the final whistle. The Manchester goal getters were Kyle McCabe, Walter Anderson on a pass from Steve Gerroir, Erik Asgeirsson, Timmy Donovan, and Chris DiClemente on a pass by Timmy Donovan; Matt Young, John Slavin on passes from Barry Tucker and Mike Schwartz, Danny Gregoe (2), both on passes from Steve DuMosch, were the successful scorers for Leeds. BOW: both teams for some great soccer.

Sunderland 2 — Liverpool 1

Sunderland scored in the second and third quarters (Scott Brink on a pass from Rob Moody and Jamie O'Brien in a pile-up at the nets) to take the lead. Liverpool worked hard to tie it up in the final quarter, but were only able to get the ball into the nets once (Cort Pomeroy on a pass from Kyle Marcella) and thus Sunderland won the points. BOW: Adam Smith, Matt Murphy and Ken Young (Liverpool) as well as Sung Jin Park and Jim Pheiffer (Sunderland).

Early Music

The Hammond Castle Museum will present the Live Oak Trio as part of the Early Music Series on Saturday, Oct. 4 at 8 p.m.

The Live Oak was formed in the spring of 1976 to explore the common roots of Spanish medieval chant, pilgrim songs, and Golden Age polyphony. Also in their repertoire is traditional music of many countries and early sacred and secular music of France and Italy.

Mt Hekla, a volcano in Iceland, is known to have erupted 20 times.

Sixty competitors took part in this year's Department of Community Services annual Junior Singles and Doubles tennis tournaments which were held over the past three weekends at the West Jr. High School courts. In spite of inclement weather, which resulted in a weekend of cancellations, some excellent and exciting tennis was seen by the many supporters who came to watch their favorite players. Although it was disappointing to have so few female entrants, the competition between those participating was outstanding. The Department congratulates all the winners and offers its thanks to all the players for their fine sportsmanship and competition.

Results of final matches are as follows:

Singles:

Girls - Age 12 & under: J. Malitsky over J. Fournier; 6-0, 6-0. Age 13-15: C. Hellenbeck over C. Kubacki; 6-3, 6-3.

Boys - Age 12 & under: F. Sullivan over J. Malitsky; 6-2, 4-6, 6-3. Age 13-15: J. Sheedy over M. Liou; 6-2, 6-0.

Doubles:

Girls - Age 13-15: C. Kubacki/C. Hellenbeck over S. Kaufman/K. D'Urso; 6-1, 6-4.

Boys - Age 12 & under: K. Lengemann/P. Kashneck over J. & F. Sullivan; 6-3, 6-2, 7-5. Age 13-15: J. Chiang/D. Bunker over J. Thibodeau/A. Pelletier; 6-1, 6-2.

Andover Net Team In Tournery

A group of amateur tennis players from Andover have discovered they don't have to be Bjorn Borg or Tracy Austin to play in a national tennis tournament.

The Andover players will compete Sept. 26-28 in Chicago in the national championship of USTA/Michelob Light League Tennis, a new program which provides organized team play for men and women amateurs at varying skill levels across the country.

Members of the Andover team are Burma Bleicki, Esther Roache, Rena Bowes, Joanne Coronis, Margot Turano, Elaine Lincoln, Sharon Russell, Jane Forest, Jane Schraffa and Gitta Ansler.

USTA/Michelob Light League Tennis enables men's and women's teams to compete at the local level and advance through a playoff system to district, sectional and regional tournaments, and finally the national championship. The Andover players and seven other northeastern teams are advancing to the national finals at Chicago's Midtown Tennis Club from the North Atlantic Regional championships this month at Princeton University.

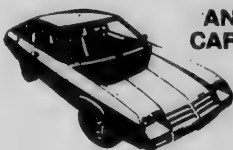

In Chicago, the northeastern teams will be competing against top amateurs from the USTA's Southern, Central and Pacific regions. About 8,000 participants are currently involved in league play across the nation, with local competition set to resume later this fall for the 1981 League Tennis season.

Kennedy Films

A film, "John F. Kennedy 1917-1963," is shown continuously at the Kennedy Library, adjacent to U Mass Boston in Dorchester. Open daily 9 to 5. Other video presentations: "A Day in the Life of the President" and "The president and the Press."

Barch Elected Vice-Pres.

LFE Corporation announced the election of Robert L. Barch as corporate vice president.

Mr. Barch joined LFE in 1973 and has since held progressively higher level management positions. He will continue his most recent responsibilities as general manager, Process Control Division. Before joining LFE, he was eastern regional manager at Accuray Corporation (then Industrial Nucleonics). Mr. Barch holds a BSEE from the University of Illinois. He resides in Andover, with his wife and two sons.

LFE Corporation is a major producer of control systems and equipment and provides engineering, environmental, and architectural services.

Craft Fair

The G.F.W.C. Billerica Young Woman's Club will host a Harvest Craft Fair on Saturday, Oct. 18, at the Marshall Middle School on Floyd Street in Billerica from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Handcrafted items will be for sale by 24 craftsmen from all over New England. Andover craftsmen who will be present to display their wares are Marcia Beardsley with quilting and patchwork, Yolanda Mendez with fabric novelties and Glenda Schake and Susan Pfeil with fabric and ceramic items. A consignment table for individual items and a drop-in table for senior citizens will also be available. Tickets will be on sale for the award of 100 gallons of home heating oil. Refreshments will be sold throughout the day.

Swimming Classes To Resume

Swimming classes for children and pre-schoolers with physical disabilities, sponsored by the Easter Seal Society, will resume next week.

Classes for pre-schoolers will begin Wednesday, Oct. 1, at Phillip's Academy pool, Andover, Route 28. Judy Thompson will be the Volunteer Chairman of the program.

Free classes for handicapped children ages 5-17 will begin Sunday, Sept. 28, and will be held each Sunday through Nov. 16, 11 a.m. to noon at the Greater Lawrence Vocational School, River Road, West Andover.

This specially designed Easter Seal swim program, free to all participants, will be held every Wednesday morning from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. through Nov. 19.

The pre-school age children by referral from several agencies, such as the United Cerebral Palsy Association, Clinical Nurseries and Visiting Nurse Associations. Diagnoses include cerebral palsy, spina bifida, developmental retardation, spinal injury, epilepsy, and multiple handicaps.

Mary Jo Hayes, a certified handicapped swim instructor, will direct the program, which includes instruction in basic skills as well as recreation. Parents and students from North Reading High School will serve as volunteers in the swim program.

Jeri Ryan, a qualified Water Safety Instructor, will direct the handicapped program, assisted by volunteers trained to work with handicapped boys and girls. When a swimmer has successfully completed the four levels of Easter Seal instruction designed especially for children with varied disabilities, the child may continue in a standard Red Cross swim program.

Further information on the swimming programs may be obtained from the Easter Seal Society's Northeast office at 2 Railroad St., Andover, weekday mornings.

Volunteers with lifesaving or water safety certificates are urgently needed. Anyone interested should contact the Easter Seal Society's Northeast office, or Norma Ryley at 688-6816.

the game, pressuring the Cardinals and tallying two goals to take the lead (Ann Marie Kannan and Dawn Fater-penalty shot). The Cardinals demonstrated their offensive skills in the second half but good defense held them to one successful shot booted in by Torrie Fitzpatrick on a pass from Megan Dunbar. BOW: Torrie Fitzpatrick, Jennifer McAnern, Lori Nelson and Karen Messler (Cardinals) as well as Amy Morton, Christine Morey, Carilyn Cronin and Kathleen Veno (Robins).

Chickadees 1 — Wrens 0

The Chickadees controlled much of the play in their game with the Wrens but tight defense held them to one goal booted in by Maura Dunn in the third quarter. BOW: Maura Dunn, Kristine Buchanan and Windy Carothers (Chickadees) as well as Kelly Andre and Lisa Spinelli (Wrens).

Finches 0 — Flickers 6

The Flickers played a strong offensive game and the spirited Finches had to work hard to minimize the loss. The six goals the Flickers were able to get into the nets were scored by Susan Clark (2), one on a pass from Suzanne Karp, Karen Pike (2) on passes from Kim Tobin and Beth Hughes, Nicole DeMartino on a pass from Beth Hughes, and Beth Hughes on a pass from Susan Clark. BOW: Marsha Hollis, Sandy Pelc, Jennifer Hichemy (Finches) as well as Laura MacDonald and Julie Plati (Flickers).

Jays 1 — Doves 1

The Doves took the lead with a goal in the second quarter booted in by Gillian Recesso on a pass by Julie Boland. The Jays put on the pressure in the third and fourth quarter anxious to tie it up, and when Vered Pomerantz scored, they had accomplished their objective. BOW: Kelly Johnson and Eileen Murphy (Jays).

Warblers 2 — Sparrows 0

With less than full complement of players, the Sparrows were challenged by the Warblers who kept up the pressure throughout. They scored two goals in the third quarter (Jennifer Surret on a pass from Susan Sofia, and Judith Petty) and made many good shots on the nets in the final quarter, all blocked by superior goal tender Angela Bobba! BOW: Kelly Murphy and Karen Bates (Sparrows) as well as Melissa Hurley and Kelly Conley (Warblers).

North Andover Seminoles 1

North Andover took the lead two minutes into the second quarter, however, Andover quickly tied it up when Sandy McNeish completed a penalty shot. Playing one man short, Andover worked hard for the winning goal and when they scored twice in the final quarter, they did become the victors. The fourth quarter goals were booted in by Sandy McNeish on a pass from Harold Gillam and Michael Hobbs on a pass from Sandy McNeish. BOW: Alex St. Laurent and Sandy McNeish.

Eagles 3 — Hawks 1

The Eagles took the lead in the first quarter when Mary Oppel assaulted the nets. The spirited Hawks worked hard and tied it up in the third quarter when Aimee Ross booted in the ball. Both teams made the attempt for the winning goal and when the Eagles scored twice in the final quarter (Judy MacDonald on a pass from

Special Engineering • Special Equipment

Here is an automatic 4000 that measures up to Audi standards. By increasing the number of cylinders to five, the engine's torque (or turning power) output is matched to the greater demands of an automatic transmission. And in addition to the 5-cylinder engine and 3-speed automatic transmission, the new Audi 4000 S includes several other features designed to meet the demands of American drivers: air conditioning, power steering, sports console and tachometer. In all, a special sports sedan.

Skiers Complete Training

If training is any indicator, Dartmouth College Nordic skiers are a crew to be reckoned with in cross-country this winter.

To cap their summer term program of conditioning, five Dartmouth College skiers pushed themselves through a similar 50-mile "triathlon" of their own devising as a test of their conditioning and stamina at this time when the coloring of the maples signals that winter's snows are not far behind.

The unusual marathon started with a 15-mile run over the 4,810 high Mt. Moosilauke that anchors the southwest corner of the White Mountains. Second leg was a 15-mile roller-skiing "sprint" from Orr Hill, where the Appalachian Trail crosses N.H. Route 25C, west on that route and south on Route 10 to where the Orford bridge crosses the Connecticut River.

There, joined by two students from the College's Ledyard Canoe Club, they boarded the club's 12-place war canoe, and paddled 20 miles south to the Ledyard Bridge linking Hanover and Norwich, Vt. Total time for this muscle-powered 50-mile tour de force, including a pause for lunch on the N. H. banks of the Connecticut River at Orford, was 11 hours.

The skiers began at dawn from Dartmouth's Ravine Lodge on the shoulder of Mt. Moosilauke, ran up the steep and difficult cascade of rocks known as the Gorge Brook Trail to the summit, and arrived there in time to observe a spectacular sunrise over the Presidential range. But they didn't stay long, in the face of a 30-mile wind on the summit and a wind-chill factor that dropped the temperature to nearly the equivalent of zero.

From the arctic tundra of the tree-less summit, they plunged down the Glenncliff Trail to Route 25C, arriving there at 8:30 a.m. With only a brief stop for snack and water, they donned their roller skis and poled and glided 15 miles up hill and down dale to the Orford bridge to make a noon luncheon rendezvous with Dartmouth's Head Ski Coach John Morton.

They began paddling south on the Connecticut river at 1 p.m. and, despite being only seven paddlers in the 12-person war canoe, traversed the 20-mile stretch of down-river water in three and a half hours, to arrive in Hanover at 4:30 p.m.

The skiers participating in the triathlon were Nordic co-captain John Mott, a senior from Pittsford, N. Y.; Don Skantze, also a senior from Gilmanton, N. H.; juniors Kirk Siegel from North Andover, and Peter Anderson from Waterford, Me.; and Robert Burnham, a 1980 graduate from Andover, who has been in training with his former teammates in preparation for racing in the cross-country circuits of the Eastern Amateur Ski Association.

After welcoming the skiers back from their river voyage, Coach Morton looked ahead to winter and talked about the prospects of the Big Green team that skis under the banner of the Dartmouth Outing Club.

"We finished fifth in the nation last year, but we were a mere 10 points out of third place, and third nationally is our goal for the 1981 season," he said.

"We won't have any superstars on the team, but both our Nordic and Alpine teams have a solid core of returning veterans, providing a depth that will help particularly in the four-man cross-country relay event newly added to this year's competitive schedules."

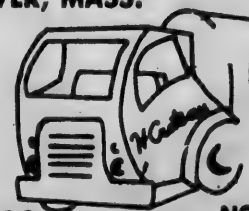

In addition to Mott, Siegel, Skantze and Anderson, he cited as potential point-getters Scott Taylor, a senior from Fairbanks, Alaska; juniors Colin McNay of Chestnut Hill, and Todd Willmert of Edina, Minn.

Morton noted that the elimination of jumping from the ski carnival competitions "hurt us somewhat because we have two of the potentially best collegiate jumpers in the country at Dartmouth this year in Landis Arnold, a junior from Denver, Colo., and forejumper in last winter's winter Olympics jumping events, and incoming freshman Dennis Mcgrane, also from Denver.

"Nevertheless," he promised, "with a well-balanced attack of returning cross-country runners, we'll be highly competitive with other schools in the relay."

PETITION TO
FORECLOSE TAX LIEN
No. 59620 T.L.

(Seal)

To all whom it may concern, and to JAMES L. BROWN, now or formerly of Billerica, County of Middlesex; LEO P. BROWN, now or formerly of North Randolph, County of Norfolk; EUGENE B. HAMILTON, now or formerly of Somerville, County of Middlesex; and said Commonwealth; ELLEN BROWN, deceased, formerly of Cambridge and also formerly of Somerville, County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; their heirs, devisees or legal representatives;

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by MARK A. BENHAM and PAMELA J. BENHAM, both of Andover, in the County of Essex and said Commonwealth, to foreclose all rights of redemption from the tax lien proceedings described in said petition in and concerning a certain parcel of land situate in Town of Andover, in the County of Essex and in said Commonwealth, bounded and described in said petition as follows: 8934 sq. ft. more or less, lots 1,2,3, block 1 River Park, as shown on plan in the assessor's office.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer, under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the 27th day of October next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

And in addition to the usual service of this notice as required by law, it is ordered that the foregoing citation be published forth with once each week for three successive weeks in the Andover Townsman a newspaper published in said Andover.

Witness, WILLIAM I. RANDALL, Esquire, Chief Justice of said Court, this 28th day of August in the year nineteen hundred and eighty.

Second Chance Consignment Shop — Lupine Road, Andover

You can beat the high cost of living today by buying and/or selling at the second chance Consignment shop, 3 Lupine Road, near the railroad depot in Andover. It is a consignment shop dealing in good quality merchandise, where buyer and seller meet for the benefit of both.

New fall and winter merchandise is arriving daily and there is a good selection of back-to-school clothing for youngsters of all ages. With the economy the way it is, clothing for fast-growing children is an important factor in your budget. Outfit them in good quality clothing at a fraction of store prices at the Second Chance Consignment Shop.

Owners Betty Jaffe and Carole O'Connor are continually searching the entire New England area to bring good buys to the public. They offer household articles such as lamps, dishes, glassware, bric-a-brac; also small furniture such as tables, desks, bookcases, chest of drawers, lighting fixtures; as well as Seasonal Clothing for the entire family, particularly women (even furs) and children.

If you are setting up a new apartment, this is the place to shop. Second Chance Consignment Shop has so much you can use, and at prices you won't believe. From pots and pans to pictures for your walls, four full rooms of excellent merchandise await your browsing.

Consignors are always wanted for Second Chance Consignment Shop, now accepting fall and winter clothing and articles for the home. Only clean, good quality, up-to-date clothing and articles in good condition are accepted. Consignors receive 50% of the sale price.

If you are moving away or have just moved into town and have items you can't use, call Second Chance Consignment Shop and they will come and give you and appraisal on your extra pieces of furniture etc.

Second chance Consignment Shop is open Tues. — Sat., 10-4. Tel. 475-9666.

At its recent national convention, the Better Homes & Gardens Real estate Service announced that John W. McCusker of Hunneman & Co., Inc. had been named a charter member of the Medallion Club. Medallion Club membership is awarded to those brokers whose sales exceed $1 million dollars in a given year. In 1979, Mr. McCusker sold more than $2 million dollars worth of property and, for the first eight months of 1980, his sales and listings sold total more than $1.7 million. In addition, Mr. McCusker placed fifth of ninety competing Hunneman brokers in this past summer's residential sales contest. This achievement was based on a formula that recognized superior service to the clients and customers of Hunneman & Co., Inc.

PRIMITIVE LIQUID

Water can save your life in the desert; it can provide a bundle of fun in the form of a quiet lake or rolling ocean beach, or be the farmer's fun in the form of a quiet lake or rolling ocean beach, or be the farmer's best friend. But when planning the construction of a new home, the drainage of this primitive liquid should be the source of great concern.

Desirable drainage soils include sand, loam, and gravel. The highest point on the property is often best because it provides proper surface drainage away from the house in all directions and the subsurfaces or ground water will be at the greatest depth.

Also good is a hillside where drainage water can be routed around the high side of the house for runoff at the ends and low side. But there are times when it is most convenient to place the house on flat ground in which case the soil around the structure should be built up or graded to facilitate the flow of surface water away from the foundation.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Kindergarten Buses Presenting A Problem

Door-to-door bus service for Andover kindergartners may have to be revised - or more buses put on at additional cost to the taxpayers - Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert told the school committee last week.

Seifert said that the one "big headache" in an otherwise "very smooth" opening of school, was in the transportation department, particularly with the kindergarten routes.

While there are fewer kindergartners, he said the closing of Doherty meant that youngsters had to be picked up over a much larger territory than in the past.

In one case, he said, a kindergarten bus was running up to an hour and 20 minutes, and another "partial bus" had to be added for 15 youngsters who are now in the Doherty-Bancroft area.

When you have to make 50 stops and have 35 miles to cover, Seifert told the committee, "it is difficult to achieve the route in the usual 35 to 40 minutes."

Seifert said he will ask the school committee to address the practice of picking up kindergartners in front of their homes, versus putting on more buses, in terms of next year's budget.

School Chairman Elaine Viehmann said it shouldn't be an imposition for mothers to walk a child a certain distance to a bus stop.

"I don't believe door-to-door service is a requirement of public education," she said.

In the upper grades, Seifert said there has been some bus hopping, particularly by students in areas where there is a second bus. Some of those scheduled for the early route, he said, were staying home a little longer and over-crowding the second bus.

He said the school department has the equipment to make bus identification cards, and will be starting at the high school to identify riders.

Lowell Regatta

Silverman, displaying the trophy, readily admitted that the managr had skippered their sailboat, while the selectman had merely acted as ballast.

He added that the Andover team had "grounds for a legal protest," because they were defeated by a non-elected official during the competition for 'among Massachusetts municipal officials.' "The Mayor's Cup went to an appointed official from Maynard," Silverman complained.

Protest or no, the second place trophy will be placed on display in Town Hall, said Silverman.
